EACH BIT STAMPED WITH THE UNION LABEL

W. A. Ives Mfg. Co., Wallingford, Conn.

Gentlemen: Your communication of June 5 received, and read at our last meeting. It was found that everyone present was using your Mephisto electrician's "11-16" bit. The dealers here stock only the small sizes. I am going to inform them of the action taken at our meeting and request them to lay in some of the larger sizes. I have never seen a bit that could compare with your No. 9.

Thanking you for your interest in organized labor, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

KENNETH D. CARROLL,
Sec'y-Treas. L. U. No. 840.

To Secure Public Ownership and Democratic Operation of the Railways of the United States Adopt the Plumb Plan

By Chas. McKeller.

LABOR SOLVES THE RAILROAD PROBLEM.

Issues in the railroad problem are becoming concrete through organization of various bodies destined to get before the people of the country the views and beliefs of their memberships. The Nation will soon be flooded with publicity devoted to the railroad question; every man in the country is vitally interested in its solution, and will be put to it to determine what method—what action—will make for the greatest good.

The labor element of the Nation will have the advantage of knowing that already there has developed a proposal for future action—a clear, detailed, inclusive plan—which has the down-right support of the two million organized railroad employees of America with whom the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor has been instructed to cooperate.

The Plumb Plan for public ownership and democracy in operation of the railroad is the plan of labor, produced, endorsed and sponsored by labor, for the best interests of the country at large. Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, is honorary president of the Plumb Plan League, organized to get the Plumb Plan before the public; A. B. Garretson, ex-President of the Order of Railway Conductors, is honorary vice-president; Warren S. Stone Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, is its president; international and national presidents of fourteen labor organizations are vice-presidents of the League.

Glenn E. Plumb, by whom the detailed plan was developed, is general counsel of the organized railway employees.

The Plumb Plan proposes public ownership of all railroads, control being vested in a board of fifteen directors, five named by the President of the United States to represent the public; five elected by the operating officers; five elected by the classified employees. Such an arrangement must not be confused with government operation. It is operation by a board in which those having the responsibility have also the authority. It is superior to government operation because it prevents control by an inefficient bureaucracy; and is more democratic, since it gives the men engaged in the industry a voice in its management.

The roads will be purchased by issuing government bonds with which to pay for the legitimate private interests in the railroad industry. The value of these legitimate private interests is to be determined by the courts. It is a judicial question, and is to be answered only after an examination of the charters of the existing companies, the laws under which they are created, and the manner in which the company has lived up to its charter and these laws. Through this method the public will not be required to pay for watered stock. The public probably will pay less than two-thirds of what the railroads claim as their value.

Money to purchase the lines can be obtained at 4 per cent, whereas the public is now charged rates to guarantee the roads 6½ per cent on their money. The saving on the present capital account of the railroads would be about $400,000,000; and on an honest valuation would be nearly twice this sum. The Plumb Plan provides for a sinking fund and every year one of the fixed charges would be one per cent of the outstanding indebtedness, to be used in retiring the bonds.

After operating expenses are paid, and fixed charges are met, including the interest on outstanding government securities the surplus is divided equally between the government and the men. The sum falling to the employees is to be divided between the managerial and classified employees, the former receiving double the rate received by the latter class. This is not a profit, since the corporation has no capital. What the men receive is a dividend on efficiency and on new business. This gives those who increase production a share of the results their increased effort has produced; and this share is theirs for as long as they are actually in the service and is not forfeitable.

The operating officials receive a larger rate of dividends because it serves as a greater stimulus to the group with the most responsibility. And since the operating officials would lose dividends if wages were increased it acts automatically to prevent collusion between labor directors and the operating directors to outvote the public's directors in raising wages beyond a reasonable level. The chief argument against the plan is that the public loses control of its own property, and that the men in charge cannot be prevented from combining to pay themselves extortionate wages. This method of sharing dividends sets up a natural barrier against collusion.

This difference in the dividend rate will not cause hostility between officers and men because without harmony between them neither group can earn dividends. An official in working for his own dividend is working for the dividend of his subordinates, for one cannot gain unless all gain.

The government invests its share of the surplus in improvements and extensions, thus adding to the value of the railroads without adding to the fixed charges. It retires the outstanding bonds, thus reducing the fixed charges. Ultimately the public has its railroad service at cost.

The rate of wages is determined by the board of directors. Disputes between officials and men are to be adjusted by boards, to which the operating officials elect five members and the men, five members. In case of failure to reach an adjustment, the case is appealed to the directors.

The Plumb Plan League has headquarters in the Munsey building, Washington, D. C.

FREE SPEECH IS ON TRIAL IN WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA.

By W. Z. Foster.

On July 7th five organizers of the American Federation of Labor were haled before the bar of "justice" in Braddock, Pennsylvania. These men are called upon to answer the charge of trying to inform the citizens of that suburb of the program the American Federation of Labor has for organizing the iron and steel workers, the offenses having been committed the day previous. Be it known that for more than seven months efforts have been made to secure a permit to hold meetings in halls. These efforts being ineffective, a street meeting was undertaken. All who participated therein were immediately arrested.

Appearing before "the court", it was learned that Burgess Callahan was out of the city. L. F. Holtzman, President of the City Council, therefore, found himself under the necessity of handling the case. He did not relish the position he was placed in. In explanation he delivered himself as follows:

"Burgess Callahan is out of the city. As President of the City Council I am called upon to handle this case. I do not like the smell of it at all. I have no information before me, and I am not going to give these men a hearing. The Burgess will have to do his own dirty work. The case is continued indefinitely."

In the evening of the same day, William Z. Foster, Secretary-Treasurer of the National Committee for Organizing Iron and Steel Workers, and J. L. Beaghen, General Organizer for the American Federation of Labor, were haled before the police court in Homestead, which was presided over by Burgess P. H. McGuire. As in Braddock, these men were charged with trying to exercise the rights of free speech in Homestead on the evening of July 5th. The prisoners were directed to stand up in front of the Judge. Their attorney stood beside them. The stuffy courtroom, which served an additional purpose of being an anteroom to the jail, whose yawning doors all might see, was crowded with interested spectators, who saw in this trial the first effort since the great Homestead Strike twenty-seven years before to bring some improvement in the condition of the workers. The Chief of Police and two patrolmen testified that the two defendants, one after the other, had undertaken to address the crowd of workmen at Eighth and McClure Streets on the previous Saturday night, and, having ascertained that the speakers had no permits, placed them under arrest.

Under cross-examination, all the police officers were visibly nervous. The eyes of the crowded courtroom were upon them. The echoes of the great Independence Day celebration could still be heard. Celebrating American Liberty one day and then arresting men for trying to exercise it the next did not seem quite in accord with the eternal opponent of the steel trust, did not appear to be entirely at east either.

The courtroom was hot, but the heat was not the only thing that caused the Burgess to sweat. "Why," asked Attorney Brennan, "can not some arrangements be made whereby these men can get a hall in which to hold their meetings?" "That is a matter," said the Burgess, "that will not be discussed at this time and place."

Some dispute arose as to whether the men had been arrested for failing to have a permit or violating a certain borough ordinance. The Burgess finally decided that the provisions of the ordinance had been broken. Attorney Brennan, after reading the ordinance, asserted that it did not fit the case of the men under arrest. "It is the best we have," said the Burgess, with a smile that carried with it no assurance. The men were promptly convicted and fined. Their attorney announced that an appeal would be taken and the case tried in the higher courts.

If the authorities, reflecting the interests of the steel magnates in the Pittsburgh district, can refuse permits for hall meetings and jail organizers who try to tell the story of emancipation on the highways and the byways, then free speech is dead in Western Pennsylvania, and the provisions of the United States constitution guaranteeing these rights is nothing but a mockery. The workers are brought face to face with the glaring fact that they have no rights the steel trust of its political satellites are bound to respect.

Western Pennsylvania constitutes part of the battle ground where our forefathers won political freedom. The pick and flower of the manhood of this section went to France to help establish Democracy in Europe. In many cases their blood enriched the soil of that war-torn country. Those who venerate the memory of our revolutionary ancestors and those who sacrificed so much for humanity in the recent struggle now stand aghast at the legal forms by which they are shorn of their rights.

The American Federation of Labor, through the National Committee for Organizing Iron and Steel Workers, proposes to fight until these rights of the workers are fully established. These organizers not already under arrest are going to speak themselves, brave the jails and go to prison, if necessary, to see that free speech and free assembly are something more than meaningless terms.

It behooves organized labor to awake to the seriousness of this situation. The most fundamental rights of the workers are menaced. The importance of the contest can not be overestimated. Every man in the ranks of the labor movement should be prepared to do his part to insure the successful outcome of the fight now being made in the Pittsburgh district.

SAFETY IN BUILDING CONSTRUCTION AS APPLIED TO ELECTRICAL WORKERS.

(By J. Albert Robinson, Special Agent for Safety and Hygiene, Federal Board for Vocational Education.)

Temporary electric wires must be so placed as not to come in contact with other wires, cables or metal. If such contact is allowed, the insulation is apt to wear through and cause a fire hazard from the arc formed. There is also the danger of workmen receiving shock from contact with cables or wires that may be accidentally alive. Such unexpected shocks are very liable to so startle the person as to cause him to fall or drop material on others. The wires must be erected in such a manner as not to be pulled down or loosened by workmen or material. Dead wires should not be allowed to remain near live wires.

The installation of electric wires for light, heat, and power is fully covered by the requirements of the National Electrical Safety Code of the U. S. Bureau of Standards and the National Electrical (Fire) Code, on which most cities base their requirements for electrical installation. The safety of the job when completed depends to a large extent on the careful inspection and testing, also on the conscientious work done. It may be possible to cover or hide a twisted joint without soldering, but it is poor policy. That kind of work will be found out and the workman's reputation is gone. It is as necessary to protect one's reputation against inquiry as to protect one's body, even more so as a wound in the body usually heals much more quickly and the after effects are less of a handicap.

There is a growing recognition of the importance of safety and hygiene in connection with the industrial life of the Nation. The employers are giving much attention to the needs of safety regulations and precautions as a matter of economy and the employees have been taught to appreciate the value of such precautions. Building construction operations, however, have been far less seriously considered, yet the accident toll in this important and necessary branch of labor has been very high.

Accidents are assuming a very important bearing on the cost of building operations, as the states are enforcing workmen's compensation laws. Compensation on liability insurance is adding from three cents to twenty-five cents per hour to the wages paid. In fact the average of the rate in one of our large cities on 36 building operations adds over six cents per hour to the wages paid.

In building construction the safety features, as far as the workmen are concerned, have been less carefully considered because of the temporary nature of the work. The construction of a building is not in a shop but on the spot where the building is to stand. Any safety features for the benefit of the workmen are temporary and have received less thought than the more permanent safety features in shops and factories. There is a strong temptation to consider scaffolding of minor importance; hoists for material are often only temporary and not sufficiently guarded; temporary floors are frequently made of poor material and not properly erected.

The workmen whose habits are fixed is inclined to look on safety devices and regulations as reflections on his ability to take care of himself. The young workman should be taught to work with proper safeguards, to observe safety precautions and so form his habits that he will, as far as possible, eliminate danger to himself and others. The Vocational Education Act, now operating in every state, under Federal jurisdiction, aims to develop the vocational school as the future source of supply of skilled workmen for the building trades, as well as for other trades and vocations. It is particularly fitting, therefore, that the Federal Board for Vocational Education, at Washington, D. C., should appreciate the need for such instruction. It has issued Bulletin No. 31, entitled "Training courses in Safety and Hygiene in the Building Trades," to meet this need.

This bulletin is prepared with the intention that it form the basis of definite instruction in safety and hygiene as applied to the building trades. It is intended primarily for use in vocational schools, but may be of use to employers who wish to promote safety methods and practices among their employees, and a fitting text book for those workmen who are desirous of improving their efficiency and anxious to avoid the hazards of their occupation.

IN MEMORIAM

BROTHER ALBERT E. BLACKWELL.

Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Being to look down from His Majestic Throne of Grace and summon from our midst in the prime of his life, our esteemed and beloved Brother Albert E. Blackwell.

Whereas, By the death of Brother Blackwell, Local Union No. 53, I. B. E. W. has lost a staunch and faithful worker, a true friend and Brother, who has endeared himself to us by his pleasant smile and sunny disposition, the craft at large a loyal supporter and the home a true and loyal son, be it

NOTICES.

To all Locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Greeting—You are of course aware of the fact, that the 15th Biennial Convention of the I. B. E. W. will be held in New Orleans this year commencing Sept. 15th.

The joint convention committee of Local Unions No. 4, 130, 823, 868 and 882 are perfecting plans for the entertainment of the delegates who attend and in this respect they request that each local that expects to send delegates to this convention will kindly notify, either by mail or wire, the Committee.

We are requesting this information in order to know just how many delegates we must prepare for as we will have to look out for hotel accommodations etc. in advance.

The St. Charles Hotel has been selected as official headquarters.

Address all communications to D. J. Byrne, Secty., Joint Convention Committee 715 Union St., New Orleans, La.

Owing to difficulty in our jurisdiction and having constitutional number of men unemployed it will be necessary to enforce the provisions of Article 14, Section 8 of the Constitution until the present strike is settled. Robert Brooks, Rec. Sec., L. U. 134, Chicago, Ill.

All members coming into the jurisdiction of Local 840 must deposit their traveling card before going to work. If they fail to do so, we will enforce our full constitutional rights.

Kenneth D. Carroll, Int. Sec'y.,
L. U. 840, Geneva, N. Y.

This is to notify the following Brothers to communicate with D. S. Litton, Treasurer of 558, Box 402, Sheffield, Alabama, in regard to an important business matter: M. N. Brown, R. H. Benedict, Ray Underwood, D. L. Tippitt, Chas. Delmar, J. R. Lovett, R. W. Oaks, B. F. Langley, G. W. Kinnett, Karl F. Sommer, O. H. Harris, C. L. Hancock, A. D. Pattie, Thomas Rhodes, Wm. A. Ramsey.

Owing to all electrical contractors in this city not signing our agreement and more than 10 per cent of our men working at other work we are forced to put into effect immediately Article 14, Section 8: "Any local union in recognized difficulty shall not be required to accept traveling cards during said difficulty or for ninety (90) days after such difficulty is settled, provided 10 per cent or more of the members in the branch of the trade affected are out of employment." Traveling cards will not be accepted by Local No. 307. John E. Resley, R. S., 366 N. Mechanic St., Cumberland, Md.

By action of Local Union No. 83, at regular meeting, I was instructed to notify G. O. of members tried by trial board and found guilty; also request publishing them in the Journal.

If this comes to the attention of J. B. Muelendorf, Harry Kennedy, or Slim Cook from Sacramento, please communicate with Jas. B. McLeod.

Gen. Del., Buffalo, N. Y.

I would like the co-operation of your local union in trying to ascertain the whereabouts of Karl W. Finley, the former President and General Chairman of this System Council. He absconded from Pocatello, Idaho, with funds belonging to this office.

If he should turn up in your locality do not under any circumstances have any dealings with him, but hold him if possible and wire this office or union No. 449 I. B. E. W., Pocatello, Idaho, who will be pleased to hear of any information in that direction.

Thanking you I remain
Fraternally,
Walter S. Mayton,

Buffalo, N. Y., July 14, 1919.

EDITORIAL

PROPOSED RAILROAD STRIKE We have lately received a number of requests from local unions demanding that a strike vote be immediately taken by our organization on all lines in the United States, on the question of enforcing our original demands retroactive to January 1, 1919, which carried with it a provision that a strike be called not later than August 1, 1919. These demands have practically all come on a coupon detached from a resolution circulated by a District Council of Railroad Shop Crafts of Chicago and vicinity. They advertise a strike for a number but not all of the roads entering Chicago and all roads of Florida.

This Council in its resolution did not take into consideration in any way, shape or form, that there is a Railway Employees' Department of the A. F. of L., through which any strike action must necessarily be taken. They provide a coupon to be sent to the said District Council of Shop Crafts, and one coupon to Grand Lodges. We have to date received ten of the detached coupons, calling upon us to take a strike vote and order a general strike by August 1st. This is not enough even to initiate a referendum and all locals should realize that it would be impossible to take a strike vote on all the roads in the United States in less than sixty days, and more time than that should be taken in order to give the membership a chance to vote.

It should also be taken into consideration that every organization affiliated with the Railway Department is doing everything possible to secure an agreement with the Railroad Administration covering all railroads. That agreement is now in the hands of the Railroad Administration, after the Agreement Committee working on the matter for a period of more than three months. We have at present a tentative agreement with the Railroad Administration, and the machinery provided by that agreement is working to produce another agreement with an increase in wage and a general agreement with special rules for all crafts. The Railroad Administration has had it a very short time, and consideration must be given the fact that the last Congress adjourned without making appropriation for the railroads, leaving the Administration in an unsettled state, but we feel convinced that our patience will be rewarded by a general agreement, and some increase in wages, while a strike at this time would only tend to upset all of the work done so far on the agreement, and we could not expect the Railroad Administration to be forced through violation of one agreement to enter into another. Any bona fide movement for the Railroad Workers will be taken through the Railway Employees Department of the A. F. of L., where all crafts will act in concert, and any notice or demand to strike from any other source cannot be recognized by the affiliated crafts. Independent action by certain groups on the railroads can only work to the detriment of the railroad employees as a whole, and we are asking that local unions submit any such requests or demands direct to Railway Employees Department, regardless of the source from which they come.

Assuring all concerned that the officials of the Department and affiliated Internationals are using every means known to them to hasten a decision by the Railroad Administration regarding agreement, raise in pay and conditions, and trusting that the railroad electrical workers will continue to use the patience and judgment which has advanced the case so far in the near past.

ENGINEERS' CONTROVERSY. For the information of all members relative to the present status of the controversy between the Steam and Operating Engineers and the I. B. E. W. regarding the jurisdiction over men engaged in operating generating, sub-stations and electric cranes, we herein quote the action of the recent Convention of the American Federation of Labor held at Atlantic City, N. J., June 19th to 23rd, inclusive.

Our appeal from decision of the Executive Council was referred to the committee on Executive Council's report. After hearing both sides to the controversy, the committee reported as follows:

"Your committee was deeply impressed with the grave consequences involved in any decision that may be made in this controversy; and because of its highly technical features your committee recommends that the President of the American Federation be authorized and directed to select a committee of five men who by training and experience are competent to judge the technical trade questions involved to make an investigation of the points at issue and that this committee submit its report to the Executive Council, which, after further conference with the two organizations in dispute, shall render such decision and make such disposition of this controversy as in its opinion the results of the investigation warrant."

The report of the committee was adopted unanimously by the convention.

You will note that the decision rendered by the Executive Council was not concurred in by the Convention, but the case was re-opened by the adoption of the above action, and provisions made for a committee of five men qualified by training and experience to investigate and judge the technical trade questions involved, and report their finding to the Executive Council.

We have suggested to the A. F. of L. that as this question is one that concerns the Metal Trades and the electrical industries only, and does not enter into the Building Trades jurisdiction, that men of the Metal Trades' craft be appointed on this committee.

This action of the convention places the matter back in its original form as before any decision was rendered, and any attempt on the part of any one to claim jurisdiction over these men who properly belong in the I. B. E. W., should be resisted by our locals, and all local unions especially interested because of having members employed in generating or sub-stations, or as cranimen in affiliation, must use every effort to guard against encroachment on their jurisdiction.

We feel confident that any body of mechanics familiar with the work involved, will recognize this work as coming properly under the jurisdiction of the electrical workers. We anticipate there will be attempts made to gain control of this work and then lay claim to it by right of possession, but we know that with the co-operation of our local unions, any such attempts cannot be successful, and we trust that the slogan of all local unions will be Guard your Jurisdiction.

PHONE SITUATION. Local unions are all familiar with the negotiations and efforts which brought about the issuance of Orders 3209 and 3210, by the Postoffice Department. No effort was spared to secure recognition of the cardinal principles of the right to organize and bargain collectively, but we find that many of the telephone companies have deliberately disobeyed or evaded the order of the Postmaster General, by refusing to deal with committees or representatives authorized to act for their employees and others, by the formation of company owned and controlled organizations or associations.

All employees of telephone companies should resent to the utmost the reflection on their intelligence cast by the company, when they ask them to believe that an organization that will be organized and controlled by the companies, and in which the company officers will have the greater say, can or will produce any good results for the workers.

The Rockefeller plan of organization cannot be considered as a labor union, so long as it remains under the dominion of company officers.

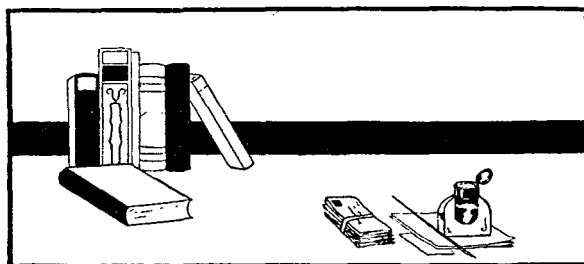

The membership in California called a strike of all locals in that state, and in order that the utmost pressure might be brought to bear on that company, the International called out the states of Oregon and Washington with them, the tie-up being complete, and prospects for settlement bright.

In St. Louis we were also compelled to go on strike because of the companies refusing to obey the order, and because of their activity in forming company locals. The Kinlock Company has since settled, recognizing the organization of their employees affiliated with the Brotherhood, and consenting to a material increase in wage scale. The Bell Company at that point is still on strike.

The manager at Louisville, Ky., refused to recognize the representative chosen by the employees there, and the same activity toward organizing company union forced a strike at that point, which is still in progress, with every prospect of a successful termination. A like situation exists at Cleveland, Ohio, and by an overwhelming vote the telephone employees have directed a strike.

Our strike vote was taken for a strike against the Government as the one employer, for the right to organize and bargain collectively, and for the establishment of machinery for adjusting disputes. Order 3209 fulfilled our demands in this respect, so that no general strike was called and hence no general assessment levied; the conditions on which the vote was taken having been fulfilled by the Government.

We have recognized strikes for violation of this order at various places, and may be called upon to recognize other difficulties in support of some of the difficulties now called, and because of company activities in organizing company unions.

L. U. NO. 5, PITTSBURGH, PA.

Editor:

Having been nominated and elected P. S. in the face of severe odds and defeating a large flock of candidates for this much sought for office, I will proceed to give the membership a little line about the Smoky City.

Most of the members have returned from the service. Several of them were "nicked" by Fritz, but fortunately we have no gold stars. We had over one-fourth of our membership in the service.

Work has been good here up until the last six weeks, when it fell off a little.

The regular fellows of the local gave a blow-out to the returned service men at the Elks Temple on May 28. Some party! Lots of eats, lots of drinks, smokes, hooch-a-macooch, 'n everything.

On June 28 the local gave a picnic. Another party!

Mike Gordan finally admitted his age. He got in the race for members over 40, and when his attention was called to it he told them all to mind their business; he know his age!

We held our regular election. The following were elected: President, John Bradley; Vice-President, N. S. Jones; Financial Secretary, S. D. Young; Recording Secretary, Monte Getz; Treasurer, Joseph Heller; Business Agent, M. L. Brush; Inspectors, Henry Entrekdn, M. P. Gordan; Press Secretary, Yours Truly.

On Friday night, June 27, 1919, we held our Annual Election of Officers with the following results: John Bradley, President; W. J. Kennedy, Vice President; Monte Getz, Recording Secretary; S. D. Young, Financial Secretary; Joseph Heller, Treasurer; G. V. Wykeman, Trustee; J. J. Duffill, Foreman; M. P. Gordan and H. Entrekdn, Inspectors; J. A. Boland, J. Bradley, W. Shord, M. E. Joyce, W. J. Kennedy, Jno. R. Williams, H. McDougall, Jno. England, Emmett Templeton, Executive Board; R. J. Pounders, W. Pabst, H. Johnson, Examining Board; and M. L. Brush, Business Agent. In connection with the above election we are glad to state that there was no opposition to any of the officers and we are looking forward to a more united front by one and all members during their incumbency. The day following election we held a field picnic at Hines Grove and you should have seen some of those old bucks of ours disporting themselves, needless to say that the younger element enjoyed themselves. The committee which was composed of the following, Bradley, Williams, Boland, Shord, Joyce, Rapp, Getz, and Hillgrove. They should be given all the credit for the successful manner in which they looked after the welfare of the members as to libations and eats. They had only one motto (Leave all grouches at home for the day. Come and enjoy yourselves). The first on the programme was a baseball game limited to three innings. You should have seen Brush playing the off corner. Every time he received the ball his chest acted as a backstop. It was a regular scream to see him at the bat. He swung on the first two like an old barn gate and the next one Rinehart put it straight over the centre of the pan and the umpire who was so rotten, I wont mention his name (Schaffer) saved him from swinging by saying "You're Out". It was comical to see Ekin playing short from what I seen of the game. It looked like a put up job to knock all balls at him and he sure gave an exhibition of how our national game should (not) be played, but we will excuse him this time. Next you should have seen the beautiful Statue we had on first base. Duffill our Pitcher fielded a nice one and instead of throwing the ball to first he ran all the way and placed the ball in the Statues hand with the following statement, "I was afraid you might stumble if I threw the ball." Well Jim Eown do you think you know anything about the game. I would have liked to have heard what you said to Duffill after he made the above remarks. Bob Sproat played left field and he made a miraculous catch behind the bar when he was seen to boob up with two high balls in his hands. Hillgrove played like a professional in the second game and he was the proud possessor of one of the knives after the game being on the winning team. Jones had no heart for the other team but he had to extend himself seven innings to bring home the bacon. He blames the umpire well. It is the old story the players have to blame some one. A. Brinkman at this point essayed to give an exhibition of his fistic Prowess but the committee took good care of the situation very neatly. Mellon and the policeman had a ten minute go on the mat and we will leave you guess who got the decision. Baseball throwing contest was won by our old standby George Keldaisch and H. Schindehette ran him a close second. The one-hundred yard dash was won by H. Schindehette. He looked like a kangaroo going down the field but Keefe looked like a cotton tail going hell bent for election and came in second. Gordan was also an entry in the 100 yard dash and from the last reports I received he is still running. There is so much to tell about our picnic I will have to leave some of it until our next letter. Continuing the soldiers column we want to inform Monte Getz that there is no such a place as no man's land when electricians are around. We found who it was used the two miles of wire which he says disappeared in no man's land. J. Prince arrived home having served with the 313th Light Artillery and during the periods of Jerrys Sherring it was necessary to replenish his supply of wire. He found the wire and used it stating (it is all for the good of the cause). Well that clears up the mystery but typifies that there is no such a place as no man's land when an electrical worker is around. Little Willie the boy wonder is home and he has developed into a fine specimen of manhood. We are glad to see you home Billy Voorhees. Our old friend Bob Fibbish arrived home looking fine and you should have seen what he brought home for Ekin. (A gun which the Jerry's captured from the Japanese and had stored in the fortress of Metz and Bob rescued it). It is about 4 foot long and boy says that if Gordon practices and carries it as long as he has that there is no doubt that John Bull will get scared and grant Ireland self determination. Well we hope so. Clifford Price is the real goods as an aviator having a record of 27,000 feet altitude and his hardest job was landing the spats to keep their nose from ploughing the fields and incidentally keep them from doing a flip flop.

For those that we are unable to get this time, watch our next issue.

Press Secretary.

EXTRA! EXTRA! All about the election of officers of our local, which was held Saturday, June 28. Results being many of the old officers re-elected. Now let us give them our best support, for only by harmony can we expect to advance. I introduce Brothers Frank O'Brien, President; W. Glass, Vice-President; Harry Slater, Recording Secretary; L. M. Fee, Financial Secretary; J. Lamping, Treasurer; J. Weston, B. Warner, B. Simiton, Trustees; W. Adams, W. Hosack, Inspectors; W. Conrad, Foreman; D. MacAvoy, T. Parish, J. Sharp, D. Manning, Sam Guy, Advisory Board; S. Shepard, C. Green, C. E. Jay, E. P. Spreigel, Tom Sheahan, Examining Board; Joy McConkey, Reading Clerk; Irving Knott, B. A. Danmanning, James Sharp, delegates to Metal Trades Council; George Allen, B. Simiton, James Barry, delegates to Chicago Federation of Labor; James Slattery, Frank O'Brien, Danmanning, James Sharp, R. A. Brehman, P. Messenie, Irving Knott, delegates to International Convention.

Now let me tell you of the conflict between our candidates for B. A. I do not claim exact truth and originality in these lines—

Knott and Bott.

Chewter Bott and Irving Knott
The nomination got.
Their voltage was most hot.
Chewter Bott called Irving Knott,
Hard names—no matter what.
Irving Knott replied to Bott
In terms no matter what.
Wrote Knott to Bott,
And Bott wrote back to Knott,
And Knott replied to Bott
That he declined it not.
So Irving Knott
And Chewter Bott
Their tried revolvers got
And went to an empty lot,
Where Knott and Bott
Five glorious rounds they fought.
Bott he got the shot,
But Knott he got it not;
For Bott missed his shot,
But Knott had missed his not.
So Bott was shot
And Knott was not,
So Knott the office got.
My best wishes to the Brotherhood, I am
Fraternally yours,

Our Press Secretary and President, Brother Raney, has resigned and moved to Los Angeles, Cal., so this little bunch of Durham has fell on my shoulders.

Here goes. We meet every Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Labor Temple, and there is always from twenty-five to fifty present out of 155 members. Always the same old faces. Brothers, are you union men when you act that way or just card men? There is other things to do besides pay dues. Think it over and come to see us. The clique will not have the chance to run everything. Join the clique yourself and help run it.

No. 12 is sending two delegates to the convention in September and I hope to see every local in the U. S. represented as we are looking for some good work.

There is a good bunch of boys here and all are working, but there is no extra work on hand at present.

Brother Gott tried to walk off a few days ago with a 2300 load, but found that he was unable, so he unloaded with a couple small holes in his arm and his fingers very badly burned. He is now in the land of living and doing fine.

We would like to have a few words from Denver. She don't seem to get in the book often.

Brother Griffin was out fishing last week and had a good time. He caught 26 pounds of fine trout and some other things. Anyway, he said Uncle Sam had not made Colorado "dry"—and we believe him.

Well, all you Brothers that are in a hot country, we feel sorry for you during July and August—we live in the mountains.

No. 12 is a $100 local; 95-cent job, 44 hour week, time and one-half for overtime, so we are not doing so bad. Linemen in this district have had a raise, and, in fact, everyone seems satisfied. We are feeling fine and all of the companies and contractors feel that way. Things are O. K.

Members must attend meetings twice a month or lose their cards—so look out, card men.

Yours fraternally,
J. L. Seay, P. S.

As I forgot to write last month, I will let the Brotherhood know what is going on in and around Philadelphia. Things are very slack in line work around here unless a fellow wants to work on unfair jobs. It is so slack here that we haven't even got a Business Agent. What is needed is an organizer in the field on some of these outside jobs, because we can not do anything with the unorganized bunch. We might as well call our Local a Riggers' Local, as we have quite a few Brothers rigging in the shipyards. So G. O., take notice of this writing.

Here is a little sad news from our Local. Brother Charles Kapple was killed Sunday, June 29, while working. This Brother was in France and escaped all the bullets of the Germans over there. This was the first job he had after coming home from France and doing his bit for our country he had to meet with an accident like that. He belonged to the 315th infantry headquarters and was an old member with us. He had some interesting stories to tell us about the world war.

Brother John Garrety is also home, but we have not seen anything of him.

We have had quite a few on the sick list of late and all drawing pretty heavy on the treasury. Brother Waters (alias Texas) is still on the crippled list and will be some time to come, but here is hoping he will be able to be on the job again in the near future.

Not knowing anything else to write, will dead-end here for another month.

About the most exciting thing that has happened in this little burg in the last few days is the wonderful way the telephone operators and telephone employees in this town are organizing. Miss Rose Sullivan is the cause of the whole discomfiture that is being experienced by the officials of this great Bell Telephone system, and take it from me they have been hopping some since our friend, Mr. Burlson, saw fit to make it a matter of record that the people employed by these companies are really American citizens and they have the right to organize without the interference of the companies they are working for. At the same time those who believe that the mandates of the government are so much stationary think they have the perfect right to form their Rockefeller associations and try to keep their employees from joining the real trade unions, but they are making a sad failure of their propaganda. About the only benefit that is derived is the fact that a great many girls and men are getting quite a few free meals and banquets, which the company is giving them three and four times a week, and much to the consternation of the company, there are a great many that are really refusing to accept their wonderful banquets, and their made in Germany souvenirs—which they are distributing rather freely of late. The girls are stepping right along like real little ladies and at this time there are about 1,600 girls in this town that have made out their applications into the union. On account of the intimidations that are being practiced upon these girls the case has been handed over to a federal mediator, who is working in co-operation with the city council and other organizations here that are investigating the way the companies are treating their employees.

For many years oh; Mother Bell
You've ruled your employees

With an iron hand.
You've made men and women
Live in Industrial Hell;

You've blasted many bright soul
Over this broad land.

You've abrogated our Freedom of '76;

You've killed the spirit of many a good man.

Oh, but we know your dirty tricks,
Your soothing tactics and your grasping hand.

But your rule of anarchy is broken,
The spirit of our forefathers hath spoken,
And you will heed their demands Oh;
Mother Bell,

No longer shall your institutions be a living Hell.

While we are tickled to death that the operators and others in the employ of the telephone companies are organizing, we are more than tickled the way the maintenance men are continuing to come into the organization. They are coming in by bunches the last few days and we don't even have to go out and ask them to come in. They all have the fever and are doing fine towards organizing all over the city. This section should have in the neighborhood of 2,000 union members in the next six months, and that is the goal of the organizers of Local No. 38, and we are going to get them, too.

Last Friday was our annual election and the following are the names of the officers of this section that will be in office for the coming year: Brother Lamoreaux, President; Brother Orweiler, Vice-President; Brother Keller, Recording Secretary; Vic Mears, Foreman; Brothers Sweeney, Ayer and William Smith, Inspectors; Brothers Ayer, Keller, Stoddard and Mears, Executive Board; Brothers McGroot, Keller, Lamoreaux, Ayer and H. B. Smith, Examining Board; Brothers Keller, Ayer, Lamoreaux, Flattery, Connolly and Griffin, delegates to the Metal Trades; Brother Ayer, Press Secretary.

These Brothers will officially carry on the business of the Maintenance section for the next year and have pledged their full support to 100 per cent organizing of the Maintenance section of Local No. 38, and with the proper support from the rank and file we will have a local within the next few months that our International will be proud of.

Editor:

Just a line to let the world know we are still in existence, struggling along the rocky roads, without any assistance, as our central bodies and Building Trades Council are not in the best of shape, so we can expect little or no assistance from them. To begin with, I must state we have been confronted with the railroad situation, relieving us of quite a few of our membership; also the Pullman Local taking about 75 members from us. So you can see, all in all, it's a continuous drain on our hard work and membership. We have our charter open for an organizing drive, which I feel will be a success. I must state we had Brother Broach with us for six days while we were negotiating a new wage scale, and we got a 10 cents an hour increase, with double time for all overtime, and a gentleman's agreement subject to change in 60 days for an increase. So I guess that is not half so bad, and no trouble or strike with employers. I am sorry to say Brother Broach could not stay with us another week, as I feel confident to say we would have succeeded in securing several more applicants in a vicinity we have in view.

We had election of delegates at our last meeting and elected our worthy Brothers Wm. Fisher and G. C. King to represent us at the convention.

We also had a committee visit Rochester to make arrangements for a joint picnic to be held at Rochester between Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo organizations. There will be sports of all kinds in attendance and the most important will be a baseball game. Syracuse Local 43 meets Buffalo Local 41 in the morning game and the winner plays Rochester Local 86 in the afternoon game. This joint picnic will be held the first or second Saturday in August, which ever the committee can arrange for. There will be plenty to eat and drink and music in attendance to welcome our neighbor locals to their hearts content. It is to be a strictly stag affair. I will state the committee is desirous of securing the boy wonder, Organizer Broach, to be present at this picnic to address the many Brothers who never had the pleasure of seeing and hearing him. Brother O'Brien, Business Agent of 43, said Syracuse never was favored with the presence of Broach, and Rochester also wants to see and hear him; and for Buffalo, we would like to have him here for all time. So we are hoping for his presence at this picnic.

In concluding, I will state that work is not booming here, but nearly all are working. No new work starting as yet, but there seems to be prospects of some starting soon.

Well as the weather is warm, I will close for this time.

Respectfully and fraternally yours,

Local 41, I. B. E. W.

L. U. NO. 53, KANSAS CITY.

Editor:

Having the impression that my last letter to the Worker was either lost or misplaced, I will try once again to let the Brothers know what is going on around the jurisdiction of L. U. No. 53.

There seems to be plenty of work here and all the Brothers are employed at present. The two light companies, the Kansas City Light & Power Co. and the Kansas City, Kansas, Municipal Light Co., are doing quite a bit of work and employing lots of men. The people of Kansas City, Kan., voted $500,000 worth of bonds June 17, for improvements and extensions, so that ought to make quite a lot of work for the Brothers. The Kansas City Light & Power Co. is building a new million dollar plant with intention of building pole lines to the small surrounding towns. They are setting some pretty tall sticks here in town, so have your gaffs pretty sharp if you head this way; also have your little green ticket with you. They are paying $5.50 per eight hours with a good prospect of more.

We have elected Brother Jack Cronin Business Agent for 53 and he is pretty much on the job all the time, and there isn't a thing gets by him. He has the light company 90 per cent organized now, but it seems like the Bell boys have had the skin pulled down over their eyes so long that they can not see the light yet. After the Brotherhood got them the chance to organize it seems like they do not want to take advantage of it, and come in with the real men. The Bell is trying to organize a company union of its own, so I guess we will soon have to fight the Bell Co. and the Bell Co. union, too. Brother Cronin is after them all the time and he manages to bring in six or eight applications each meeting night. Brother Cronin is not the only one that is out hustling, for we have several others that are hustling all the time; also the Brothers in No. 124 (inside men) are doing all they can for us.

We are having good attendances at our meetings and everyone is working for the interest of the Local. Still taking in new members, and the old ones are keeping up their dues. Brother C. Bert Roberts, the Financial Secretary, is on hand every Tuesday night to receive their dues and give them a little yellow slip and a monthly button. Even Brother J. F. "Hap" Hood, who has quit doing line work for the farm manages to ride the old gray mare in once a month for his monthly receipt and button.

Brothers Stapleton and McTamany have arrived back from France, where they were over taking a crack at Kaiser Bill. Brother Stapleton went through twenty-six battles in the thirteen months he was over there without a scratch, although he had a slight gas attack twice. Brother McTamany was not in so many battles. He says the Kaiser heard the fighting Irishman was over there and threw up the sponge.

We had the misfortune of losing one of our Brothers in the past month. Brother Albert Blackwell was killed by getting knocked off an iron pole. He came in contact with 2300 volts and was knocked off and his skull fractured. "Slim," as he was known, was well liked by all who knew him, and we feel his loss very much. All the other Brothers are well at present and able to get about.

Well as I think this will take up enough space in the Worker I will dead end on this corner. Wishing the I. B. E. W. and all its members all the success in the world, I remain a Brother,

Jos. Cloughley, P. S.

L. U. NO. 59, DALLAS, TEXAS.

Editor:

As Local Union No. 59 has not been mentioned in the columns of our Official Journal for some time, I will endeavor to mention a few interesting events we have experienced recently.

In the first place inside L. U. No. 59 through brotherly love went on a strike in sympathy with outside L. U. 69, who were in difficulty with the Texas Power & Light Co., and as usual we placed our entire membership on picket duty and other things incident to the strike. However Brother Walter Leach was given an office job and as he became more interested in his duties his mind evidently wandered elsewhere for one afternoon Walter came in Labor Temple with a handsome young lady holding his arm, and after an introduction the fact was revealed that Rev. W. M. Anderson had just changed the name of Miss Alma Lee Manes to read Mrs. Walter B. Leach. Can you imagine a charming white girl marrying an electrician.

As to our strike we were making splendid progress as all the building crafts affiliated with the Building Trades Council were out in sympathy with the line-men except the Sheet Metal Workers. Of course the Sheet Metal Workers had a very poor alibi, but we could not accept this with much favor as they did not seem to remember that it was but a few short weeks had passed since the Electrical Workers were walking the streets in sympathy with the Sheet Metal Workers.

The T. P. & L. Co. first armed their strikebreakers with pistols and as our boys were having them arrested and convicted the State Attorney General ruled that shot guns could be lawfully carried so accordingly the company immediately supplied all their trucks with shot guns. State Labor Commissioner Tom Jennings endeavored to have this practice stopped, warning the city and county officials that blood shed would sure result.

The Arbitration Board appointed by the City Commissioners endeavored to arbitrate the situation and I believe conducted the affair in a fair and impartial manner, but President trickland assumed the stubborn stand that he had nothing to arbitrate.

The T. P. & L. Co. employed many ex-convicts and things to replace union strikers and when they were permitted to carry shot guns they just went around town looking for trouble as several of our members were badly beat up and of course our honorable police could not find any of the company thugs who were responsible.

These thugs were too cowardly to go out individually as they always went out in bunches.

On June 11 a committee of Electrical Workers was in the Mayor's office protesting against the carrying of shot guns when a riot call came in police headquarters that a pitched battle had accrued between strikers and strike breakers and upon the arrival of the police one strike breaker guard was found dead and four strikers riddled with bullets from shot guns fired in the hands of guards and strikebreakers.

The police arrested seven union electrical workers and it took the grand jury thirteen days to investigate the case and they turned three of the strikers free and indicted four strikers for murder.

An arrest has never been made on the strikebreakers side of the case, but instead are allowed to go free after having shot and severely wounded four union men.

This is a fair showing how cordial the sheriff, chief of police and above all our City Police Commissioner are towards the union man, and it will be well to remember this affair next election time. The city officials placed as many uniform police at the disposal of the T. P. & L. Co. as they wanted and were placed where they wanted.

Since we have returned to work we have endeavored to give as much as possible on account of the many details connected with the trial that will cost considerable, and as the T. P. & L. Co. have some of the ablest lawyers to assist in the prosecution it will be absolutely necessary for our boys to be defended by the best legal talent to be had, we are compelled to ask for financial assistance, and let me assure you that there never was a more just cause and one that assistance will be more appreciated.

With best wishes for the success and prosperity of our brotherhood.

Yours fraternally,

O. O. Harper,
Press Sec.

L. U. NO. 60, SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.

Editor:

Local Union No. 60 has been on strike since June 1 for an increase of $1.00 per day in wages, a 44-hour week, and double time for all overtime, including Saturday afternoon. These we believe to be reasonable demands, no more than what is recognized throughout the country, and the fact that the contractors refused to even discuss them with us left no other course open. So far we are progressing nicely, having the full support of all other crafts in San Antonio, and having the shops practically tied up. The few rats they have succeeded in getting are of the yellow variety, and could come nearer spreading bubonic plague than they do qualifying as mechanics. In fact, the demand for competent men became so great that we had to open up a shop of our own, in order to take care of our friends who must have work done. This we find is greatly appreciated by all who stand for what is right, and the appeal of the contractors to the public not to have any work done until the strike is settled seems to have fallen upon deaf ears. The public is little concerned over the troubles of the bosses, and besides most people are glad to see the money going where it rightfully belongs, which is into the pockets of the men who do the work. Of course there are a few so-called business firms who pretend to sympathize with the contractors, thinking it may help them later when they find they have trouble in their own backyards; and it is amusing to note the frantic efforts of these jack-leg managers towards putting up a strong front. They have formed what they call an open shop association, wherein individual merit is the deciding factor on all questions pertaining to wages. Collective bargaining on the part of employers is taboo, although they themselves have sworn by the Great Horn Spon, the Blood of a Turnip, etc., etc., to back up each other "until death do us part", or something equally as welcome. It seems they have even gone so far as to open up an employment agency, and their want ads appear occasionally in the daily papers. It is rumored that they hope to catch the discharged soldier just as he has spent his last bonus dollar and is looking for a job; but they overlook the fact that a man who will go across the ocean to fight for a principle is not going to forget it all the minute he returns to civilian life.

We do not know how long this strike will last. It may be over before this is printed, and it may not. We are out to win, and it is up to the contractors to say when they have had enough.

Fraternally,

Otto Dean Press Sec'y.

L. U. NO. 69, DALLAS, TEXAS.

Editor:

As our regular Press Secretary is out of town, I will write a few lines to let the membership know that we are still on strike against the Dallas Power & Light Company, the Texas Power & Light Company, and all of their subsidiaries, and that we will be until we get an agreeable settlement. We have nine representatives out at the various towns where the T. P. & L.

have any properties, and we have been very successful so far at keeping them from getting any mechanics. They had the misfortune last week of having one man burned up here in Dallas.

We have only lost two members since the strike was called. One D. E. Therrell, card No. 416158, had a fight with one of the guards, and then went back to work under the same guard. Can you guess at what kind of a looking fellow he is? One F. T. Steger, card No. 189842, came off of the job when it was first pulled and was obligated with the rest of them. In about ten days he came back on a meeting night, paid his initiation and a month's dues, took a withdrawal card and quit the business, but went back to work the next day. We hate to lose any members, but I think it is a good thing to weed them out.

There is no excuse for a man to be out of work now, as we have had more calls for men than we could furnish.

I am also sending a letter from the Secretary of the Strike Committee, H. T. Robinson, which I hope you will have space for.

H. Warrington,
P. S. Proteem.

The letter follows:

An Appeal for a Worthy Cause.

Dallas, Texas, June 25, 1919.

To All Organized Labor, Greeting:

On March 11, 1919, the Electrical Workers of North Texas were forced to strike against the Texas Power & Light Company all over the company's system. The line-men conducted the strike along honorable and peaceful lines until May 15, all wire-men struck in sympathy with the linemen, which was done along peaceful lines. The Texas Power & Light Company at all times refusing to meet our committee or international representative. Government mediators, Meyers and Woodmen, insisted upon president and general manager of the company to submit to arbitration, one man selected by the company, one by the electricians and the third to be a federal judge residing in Texas. This was refused by the company.

From the beginning of the strike the company armed their strike-breakers with pistols and employed armed guards. The police arrested some strike-breakers for carrying pistols; they were convicted for same. The Mayor then ordered all employees of light company disarmed; the Attorney General made a ruling whereby they could carry shotguns, which they did, and about June 2d, all building trades struck in sympathy and remained out until June 16, being ordered back to work by their respective international representatives, leaving linemen's strike unsettled and still on.

During the time the strike-breakers were carrying shotguns (about two weeks' time) the District Attorney's office and Sheriff's department were appealed to a number of times by labor leaders to prevent strike-breakers from carrying firearms, setting forth a fear that serious trouble would result if such a practice were allowed with some 3,000 workmen on strike, and at the very hour on June 11, when a clash did come, a committee of Electrical Workers were in the Mayor's office protesting against the carrying of shotguns when the riot call came into police headquarters that a pitched battle was being fought with guns between strikers and strike-breakers. The police rushed to the scene, found one strike-breaker guard dead and four strikers riddled with shot from shotgun fire at the hands of guards and strike-breakers.

The police arrested seven union men (all electrical workers). It took the grand jury from June 12 to June 23 to investigate the case. They turned three of the strikers loose and indicted four of them for murder, and an arrest never has been made on the strike-breakers and guards side of the case, but instead they are allowed to go free after having shot and severely wounded four union men.

After remaining in jail thirteen days, upon being indicted by grand jury, the District Attorney's office have set their bond at $45,000, which is an outrage; but we had to submit and after a great effort finally made bond.

Will say, however, that the men are getting speedy action from the State, in so much as their trial has been set for July 21.

Now, having given you a brief history of the case and its cause, will say this is a case that should appeal to every honest, red-blooded American citizen. Its merits are very similar to those of the famous Tom Mooney case of San Francisco, Cal., whereby capital and its hirelings have framed four men, whom we believe are innocent, to go on trial for their lives on July 21 for a crime that is presumed by many was committed by one of the light company's hirelings. These men, perhaps, will be prosecuted by the District Attorney, assisted by a group of corporation lawyers and special prosecutors have already been retained to assist in the prosecution of these men. Millions of dollars lie on the prosecutors' side of the case, while only what money we can collect from union men and their friends are available to retain counsel for the defense of these men. We are appealing to you for all the financial aid possible for you to give, that we may secure the best legal talent money can buy to defend these men; and as the trial is less than thirty days off, immediate action should be taken and in an emergency the funds should be wired in so lawyers can be retained so that they may have time to prepare their defense. Remember that pure red American blood was spilled on the battlefields of war, torn and bleeding Europe, that autocracy should be repelled and a world's democracy established so that freedom should prevail and the world be a safe place to reside and then in less than eight months from time armistice was signed and even before the world's peace terms are signed insuring the world's democracy, a state of affairs exists whereby four men are to face trial for their lives right in the nation which was the birthplace of Freedom and equal rights, being tried in a court house upon which a flag will float which they donned a soldier's uniform and helped to defend, two of them being ex-soldiers.

These men are being prosecuted because they had the moral courage to demand that they and their fellow men had the right to live.

Who knows but what you or I might not be the next victim of circumstances whereby capital will try to put us in the penitentiary for life, or send us to the electric chair, so that they may gain their selfish ends and peon the working class forever.

Are you going to allow them to be convicted of a crime of which we believe them innocent, and be sentenced to death on account of not having sufficient funds to obtain the proper defense?

Are you going to stand idly by and allow this to be done without satisfying yourself that you have contributed your share toward their defense? Two of these men have done their "bit" for Uncle Sam, will you do yours for them?

The Strike Committee has adopted a stamp to be known as "Justice Stamp", worth 50 cents each. These stamps are to be issued weekly by the secretaries of each local, to be pasted in due books or on receipts, this plan to run for one month.

Now there is not a union man or woman in our Lone Star State but what can afford this to help save these boys' lives. This is not the only issue at stake, but another equally as great, viz: that of a Huge Capitalistic Corporation trying to crush Organized Labor.

Will you adopt this plan? If so, put on a campaign, such as never was launched in any state before and sell the enclosed stamps and write for more.

Send all donations to H. T. Robinson, Labor Temple, and you will not only receive the heartfelt thanks of these boy victims, but of all organized labor in Dallas.

Fraternally,

G. W. Livingston,

Chairman Committee.

L. U. No. 75 of Grand Rapids, Mich., wish to thank the various L. U.s throughout the Brotherhood for their generous response in buying tickets to the Hello Girls' Ball, given for the purpose of raising money to organize the telephone operators here. Will state for the benefit of those who could not attend that it was one grand success, both financially and socially; in fact, one of the largest dances ever given in this city, 600 couples participating. Will also state that we have a very good operators' local union with 200 members as a result of our organizing efforts.

Chas. Anderson, F. S. L. U. 75.

L. U. NO. 84, ATLANTA, GA.

Editor:

Living up to my agreement with I. B. E. W. Local 84, I will try and get a letter to the worker this month and tell you what progress we are having in this jurisdiction.

Everything looks favorable and we are positive we are making rapid progress, in view of the fact that the inside men's strike is still on, practically everybody is at work and we feel that we are getting along fine. We consider that we are fifty-fifty with the contractors, as we have thirteen out of twenty-six contractors signed up with a closed shop contract. We are going on nicely with the ones we have signed.

Building trades of Atlanta have signed with the Building Trades Employing Association and we feel sure of entering an agreement with the remaining thirteen electric contractors in the near future.

Our worthy business agent, Mr. William Pollard, has been very busy on the building trades agreement and the Southern Bell strike of the operators, for which he has made many substantial gains, but of which I am unable to give full details at this time.

Our agreement with the Georgia R. R. & Power Co. so far has been perfectly satisfactory and everyone is well pleased. Harmony, good will and brotherly love exists among them all at this time regardless of the ill feeling of the past, and I am sure the boys on the job will bear me out in this statement.

The linemen of the Southern Bell, Postal and Western Union are continuously joining our local and of course this is encouraging to us.

The strike with the Southern Bell is still on and the girls are just as determined to win now as they were the first day they came out. The C. T. U. A. strike has been called off, as you know, and the girls have joined the I. B. E. W. L. U. 126A, and are in the fight to a finish with the Bell company in this jurisdiction.

All the local unions affiliated with the Federation of Trades has given all the way from $50 to $500 each to the striking operators and each member is assessed one dollar per week throughout the life of the strike.

The retail clerks and the box workers of the box industry of Atlanta are organizing and of course that all looks good to us.

Miss Rose Hickey, I. O. of the telephone operators, has been faithful and has been right on the job every day since the Bell strike began. She is one of the most active trades unionists that the Brotherhood has ever had the pleasure of meeting for some time. She has gained many friends throughout this section.

It seems that there is a great deal of complaint from the brothers on account of not getting the Worker. I have been a subscriber for several months, but I have not received a copy yet.

L. U. NO. 109, ROCK ISLAND, ILL.

Editor:

Well Brothers, I will try and drop a line to let you know how things are around here. Some hot weather Brothers.

I am sorry to report of the sad death of Brother John Stevens. He came in contact with 13,000 volts while he was taking down a ground wire. It is high time to cut out working on such voltage stuff. He was layed to rest with respect of Local 109. Brothers, just think, another widow, but still the powers go right ahead. It makes three in less than three years, and we get the big sum of $5.70 and lose all bad weather.

They want some linemen, but none comes along. I guess when they get some I won't last long. Brothers, if they pay the jack and make some working conditions they can get linemen, but I suppose some of you have heard of the greatest foreman here. He should get the work out of you. He has a gang of himself now and is the heavy truck.

We have everything O. K. organized.

Well Brothers I must close as I have not received my last month's Worker. Wishing all the Brothers with best wishes and that we have some beer some day. Best wishes I. B. E. W. I am,

Fraternally yours,

E. M. Gilmore, P. S. 109.

Editor:

Having just been elected to the honorable position of Press Secretary will endeavor to get a copy of the latest news of L. U. No. 110.

At our last meeting we installed our new officers as per the result of the election of the previous meeting. Brother Gus E. Brissman was re-elected as president; Brother C. B. Spencer as vice-president, re-elected; Brother M. Varclavak succeeded Brother Harry Hart as recording secretary; Brother H. G. Zastrow succeeded himself as financial secretary; Brother H. Doern was elected as trustee. Brothers A. Drewry, Steingraber, A. Jurgensen, P. Nichols and A. Hanson were selected to represent our interests as members of our new executive board. For press secretary, yours truly. Brother Sid. Bush was re-elected as treasurer. Brother G. Drake re-elected as first inspector, with Brother M. Paul being chosen as second inspector. Brother George Addicks was chosen for our new foreman, and Brother C. B. Spency was retained to represent us as business agent for another year.

L. U. No. 110 is in a good and prosperous condition with about all of our members working. We have nearly every man in the town in our organization who is working at the trade and our meetings are well attended. I believe our officers have been more than usually competent in the past, which largely accounts for our position.

We recently won the demands submitted in our new wage scale without a strike, although it did look like a strike for a few days.

War time prohibition is upon us and some of the boys here seem to be suffering already.

Probably Section 7 of Article 29 of our Constitution can soon be annulled. If it will help any to make us better men in the organization and in the world at large why let her ride, but the principle itself would seem to be of doubtful virtue.

However, I am opening a subject which is more than I can master, at least in this letter, so will drop out for this time and will try to have a more newsy write-up in the next edition.

Fraternally yours,

Chas. E. Strong, Press Sec'y No. 110,

Editor:

It is about time for another little article in the Worker, but am a little shy on points to talk about in this issue. We have got our fishing lines out and are expecting to catch some pretty big fish in a few weeks, but at the present time just cannot state what these big fish will be. So if the Brothers will just watch the Worker and read 136's articles they will be surprised when they find out what these fish really are.

We have no big rush of work here at present, but all the Brothers are making steady time, so we have no kick to register.

We have our Bizzy Izzy Agent working hard and he is doing some real good work among the telephone men and has secured a large number of applications.

Well, Mr. Editor, as I stated above, news is a little shy this trip, will ring off, with hopes of having some real good news for the next issue of the Worker. I am,

Fraternally yours,

BACK-FIRE FROM L. U. NO. 142, BOSTON, MASS.

(On letters in May issue.)

St. Louis No. 2, says that they have "some system" and action in their town when it comes to settling difficulties. I don't think they ever were in Boston—some settlers there, I'll say.

L. U. No. 4, New Orleans, La., says that they are handicapped on account of "donating to charitable institutions, war sufferers, widows, etc." Cheer up, New Orleans, you haven't been alone in this respect.

L. U. No. 4, New Orleans, La.: Your request will be granted; wage schedule will appear in next issue.

L. U. No. 4, New Orleans, La.: I am sorry if you are being held down by politicians, officeholders and the like who do not work at the trade and who make you the "laughing stock of creation." Ask our "big three" when they come on to the convention what we do with politicians not only in Boston, but in Washington, too.

L. U. No. 4, New Orleans, La., suggests "getting a home for aged and infirm members." The old age pension bill is now pending in Massachusetts, which if passed, will take care of this feature. Get after your legislature, why make labor stand the burden when there's other ways of doing it?

L. U. No. 103, Boston, says "it is quite safe to say that there never was a time in the history of the world at which there was so much unrest and so little violence, and amid the crash of empires and the fall of dynasties is heard the voice of humanity rising in mighty cadences above the tumult, etc." True, my good brother, true, but what has all this to do with the New England strike or government ownership of utilities, which you set out to tell us about?

L. U. No. 103, Boston, says further: "America is in a great measure responsible for the events of the past two years." I know of a few nasty events of the past two years that I wouldn't think of accrediting to America.

L. U. No. 103, Boston, says that "public utilities is better for the public, etc." I would rather that come from someone who has had a taste of "public control."

Old jokes by new players: L. U. No. 103 of Boston gives "full" account of the New England strike—was a tough fight for 103 I'll say.

L. U. No. 122, Great Falls, Mont., says in connection with a city election out there that they made them "sit up and take notice." In Boston we made them "cough up" and take notice; our business agent was elected to the City Council for three years.

L. U. No. 122, Great Falls, Mont., thinks that in time there will be only two parties, "labor and capital or business ticket." Ah, come on, let's have a lot of tickets—more fun!

L. U. No. 155, Oklahoma, Okla., says that they are going "after" the telephone men. Good luck to you! You have the right position in the parade, "after," not "before"—'tis safer.

L. U. No. 515, Newport News, Va., did you say "Pay your poll tax and then vote"? In Boston we vote and then pay our poll tax—some times.

L. U. No. 423, Yakima, Wash.: Those good "scrumptuous" suppers you speak of being "noted the world over" and which were supplied at your April party, I'm sorry to say, are nothing like your invitations—when's your next party?

L. U. No. 563, Marion, Ind.: Greetings upon your birth. May you grow to be the daddy of a lot of little locals like your uncle 142 did, but don't "name" your first one 202.

L. U. No. 558, Sheffield, Ala.: Let me see, what's the name of your press secretary now?

L. U. No. 817, New York: Speaking of bringing the boys back to God's country and theirs, goes on to say: "home and mother, wives and babies, brothers and sisters, all of them anxiously await their homecoming." And what do you know about that, not one word about sweetheart or the "old man"—shame on you New York!

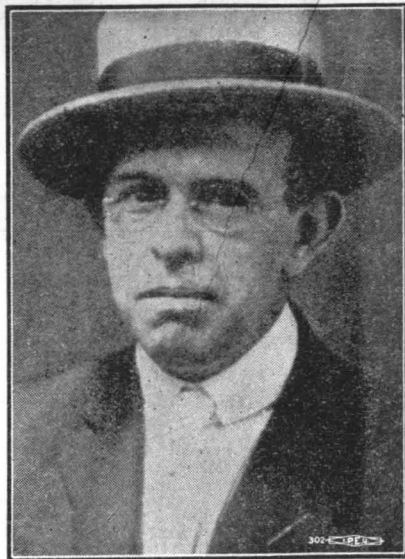

L. U. No. 817, New York, says: "The man who refuses to help is no man." Too deep for me, New York, I'll give up!

L. U. No. 817, New York, says that it is "on the top all the time when it comes to helping their country, etc." L. U. No. 142 believes in going "over" the top.

L. U. No. 817, New York, speaking about saving a dollar for a rainy day, etc. Listen to this: When the boys of 142 put a dollar in their pocket they "double" it, when they take it out it uncreases (increases). No rainy days in Boston, I'll tell the world!

L. U. No. 817, New York, says that they have "grown" to realize that many a fortune has been started with Liberty Bonds. Local 142 has been "made" to realize it.

L. U. No. 865, Baltimore, Md., wants to know the secret to large meetings. Now that prohibition is here perhaps they can look for larger meetings. No secret to it in Boston.

This is a photograph of Brother Thomas Hession of Local Union No. 142, Boston, who has been elected a delegate to the National Convention at New Orleans to take place soon.

Mr. Hession is a man of ability and integrity and possesses faculties not found in every man. His photograph shows him just as he will look when he trips on to the convention and there is no doubt that "Tom", as he is familiarly called in Boston, will make a host of friends before he leaves New Orleans.

Look for him at the convention and if he isn't what I say he is then I hope the columns of the journal will be open to you for a "slam" at me.—Press Secretary.

L. U. No. 880, Pittsburgh, Pa.: I'm sore that you didn't invite me along with Bros. Broach and Kloter. I can "get" upon the floor when my turn comes and when it doesn't come, make motions and do all those things.

L. U. No. 890, Janesville, Wis.: So you have four scabs out there? We have five in Boston! Let's bunch them together and see if we can "raise" some "scabs."

L. U. No. 919, Erwin, Tenn.: So you have a Wallace in your local? So have we, I'll match you.

Dist. Council, Penn and Allied Lines: If the Bldg. Trades Locals don't behave themselves, don't let them ride in your trains—begorra, that's a fine idea.

A. W. Wright, Little Rock, Ark., speaking on the League of Nations, says that "unionism dates back to about four thousand years before Christ, and that 8 hours constituted a day's work and other working conditions were ideal." I think it unfair of Mr. Wright to go back so far when all I can remember is back as far as three thousand years before Christ. And they had "hours" then? Well you don't say?

Mr. Wright also says that "modern unionism is merely a revivification of the principles taught in olden times, with corrections of mistakes made in the past." Fine! I often wanted to know a suitable definition for "modern unionism." Now can you tell me what "labor unionism" is?

Mr. Wright speaks of making the future safe for descendant of men. Perhaps the women will have a little to say about that judging from recent accounts from Washington.

Do I understand, Mr. Wright, that when you speak of men "shoulder to shoulder in the trenches" you mean literally so?

Those in favor of Mr. Wright's ideas say "aye", contramanded "nay"—the motion is lost. Moral: How can it be a League of Nations with one Nation left out?

Editor:

Some have been asking the question through the Worker, how to improve their attendance. Here is a plan that we have been trying of late with splendid results. We have our monthly dues set 50 cents higher than we think will be required to carry normal expenses and give each member that attends two meetings or more each month a rebate of 50 cents on the following months dues. The F. S. keeps a check on the amount due by the members presenting their last receipt when paying dues. And we punch the receipts of all those present under the head of the good of the union.

L. U. NO. 184, GALESBURG, ILL.

Editor:

Having been elected Press Secretary for this local will try and be on the job to the best of my ability.

We had a nice little three-day strike here which we won with ease. Lots of backing, but did not need much, as we had them whipped before we pulled it. Telephone Operators, Local No. 123A, newly organized with about seventy members, and all of them stickers, went out here on Wednesday morning, June 18, 100 per cent. The company pulled the switch and did not try to operate, as it was useless. The men came out with them. Although they had a signed agreement, which should not have been signed until the operators were ready, we forced 25 cents more per day into it, which makes the job $4.50 per eight hours four ways, which is not near enough and would have been better if they would not have been in such a hurry to accept 50 cents per on June 1.

The operators' scale follows: Student operators, $10 per week of six days. The scale steps on up to $14.50 per week for experienced local operators; $15 per week for toll operators. All six-day weeks, with $2.00 extra for all who work on Sunday. Closed shop conditions, as both agreements are signed up. The strike was short and sweet, but the good it done will last a long time. The strike committees for each local were: Brother Archie Maze, chairman; Ed. Osborne, Chris Smuthers, Brothers Howe and Crews. Sisters Vera Hammond, chairman; Marcella Burns, Margaret Perry, Miss Willis.

The inside wiremen also closed an agreement with contractors, calling for 70 cents per hour.

We found through our trouble here a Bolshevik, calling himself a business man. If so, old "Vick" is branching out a little. This poor excuse for a human being had the smallness to write our able editor of the Labor News here in Galesburg, promising him a coat of tar and feathers because he demands a living wage for his fellow workers and fights to get it. He was such a coward he would not sign his name, but hid behind the business men by calling himself one of them.

Well John Barleycorn died last night. For how long no one seems to know. I wonder if this is what they call democracy when a working man can't even have his glass of beer. I see the prohi's have the old "quitter", W. J. Bryan, taking an active part in their affairs now. If he don't ruin them soon no one else can.

Would like to see a few more articles in the Worker each month, as there are a lot of locals among the missing in the correspondence section.

Seems to me like Illinois is a good field for operators' locals, and I for one would like to see a general effort made to organize them throughout the state.

Well I have taken up about enough space—probably too much—for this time, so wishing the entire Brotherhood continued success, I remain,

Yours for the cause,

Archie Maze, Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 205, OMAHA, NEB.

Editor:

The new half year has started and with it the new officers have taken their places and may their rein be blessed with success. The new standard bearers for the half year are Brother James D. Christee, President; K. E. Riley, Vice-President; John E. Lane, Financial Secretary; Arthur Anderson, Treasurer; John Jacobson, Recording Secretary; Wm. Whithurst, Foreman; T. J. Smith and Frank Parkins, Inspectors. Our retiring President, Brother Ed. Hanisch, is to represent Local No. 205 at the convention and was also elected Trustee for three-year term.

The proposed amendments to the By-laws in regards to the dues and attendance were passed with only seven dissenting votes. The elections were held at a special meeting Friday, June 27, and had old Jupiter Pluv not showed his fine Kaiseristic hand we would have had a 100 per cent attendance of those in town, but even considering the weather we had a good attendance, and we opened a keg of nails and had more ice cream and cake than twice the gang should have eaten.

As I am writing this the report comes that our esteemed friend, Czar Burleson, has resigned owing to the fact that his economies are distasteful to some of the newspapers. I wonder if they were labor papers?

The principal topic when two or three are gathered together is, "When are the railroad electricians to get their increase and when will we get the beer and light wine? Iowa and Nebraska have been a half brother to the Sahara for some time, so the 1st of July did not bother as much as in some places.

Well it will not be long till the convention and it is about time that their work was not turned down. It seems as the laws are weak in as much as it is not possible to vote on the new parts and amendments to the constitution without turning down the entire work of the convention.

Well Brothers, I must close for the present.

Riley, Press Sec'y.

L. U. NO. 211, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Editor:

It is indeed with pleasure that Local No. 211 can claim that we are back to the old standard of a closed shop condition with the wage at the rate of $1.00 per hour for foreman and 87½ cents per hour for journeymen and you may rest assured that the Local did not have anything handed to them on a silver platter, but on the contrary it was a hard and consistent fight.

You are assured of the fact that No. 211 has a loyal bunch as members, as the last shop agreed and came over on July 3. The loyalty of the members can be very easily reckoned, as the Local did not lose one man each and every member was firm to the last, a record to be proud of. Don't you think so?

On June 26 the Local gave a banquet to the returned enlisted men of the army and navy, members of No. 211, and a very enjoyable time, the best ever pulled off by No. 211. Harmony prevailed to the last sandwich and other stuff. Speeches were made by all the returned boys and sams were very hot at that.

Our floating members have left us for fields anew, as work is very dull here at present and the outlook is very poor. Only a few of the members are working. Some of our members are owners and captains of yachts and boats of all descriptions and they occupy their minds during the season by separating the visiting fishermen from their money, and giving them a good time catching fish and drinking—the bait.

Would request of our friends who desire to work in Atlantic City to postpone their visit until November, as there will be very little to do and the members can take care of all work until then.

Fraternally,
Harry H. Freed, Press Secy.

L. U. NO. 212, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Editor:

We were all there on this grand occasion, given in honor of our boys of No. 212, who so nobly had enlisted their services in the great world war.

A more desirable spot could not have been selected than this, an extreme suburban spot of one of our neighboring Kentucky cities. Thanks to our able committee.

And even riding on the green street car that brought me there was not without its compensation, crowded and stuffy though it was.

Thus hanging on a strap in front of two handsome specimens of feminine beauty, I overheard interesting conversation. I discovered their destination to be the same as mine. I wondered what steps our worthy committee had taken to include in our gathering such wonderful representatives of the gentle sex, since I had been informed that this was to be strictly a stag affair. I later discovered much to my disappointment that they as well as many others were interested only in little parties of their own and upon reaching this summer garden displayed no desire of mingling with our outfit as I had anticipated.

Arriving upon the scene I was immediately informed that supper was being served. Here, I want to give myself credit for stepping in at an opportune time.

Tables set for 250 out on the lawn with chicken supper staring me in the face. Again thanks to the committee. Well we just eat and eat for we had looked forward to this. After grabbing off everything available we settled back with our smokes while Brother L. Allen as toast master (also recently discharged Second Lieutenant U. S. A.) called on those most fitted and able to dwell on a few remarks as per our gathering on this occasion.

Finally upon leaving the tables where Hooverizing had been the most remote of our ideas, I was attracted by a great throng of members under a peculiar structure where I discovered upon investigation our bar was being conducted—real beer free for the asking.

It being a regular oasis in fact into which our Cincinnati boys leaped with glad cries, for had it not been several weeks since most of them had tasted of real beer. And a flourishing business was being carried on here, many apparently being eager to make up for lost time, while others were trying to stock up for the future—for such opportunity may not come again soon.

Close by in several spots I could see bunches of the boys toying playfully in some cases and working vigorously in others with two small squares of ivory which I am told are marked on all six sides with black dots numbering from one to six. On close observation I could see why some prayed so assiduously to some imaginary God, calling out certain numbers as they prayed only to pass the little square ivories to the next brother and break into another emergency fund from many weeks past.

I could not thoroughly understand the arrangement why some should be paid at such a high rate for handling these small squares while others apparently working much harder were willing to furnish all the money necessary to keep this pastime in motion.

Some of my various friends attempted to give me valuable instructions, whereby they asserted I could amass great wealth through participating in the above pastime. But all their instructions were for naught, for far be it from me to step in and take from them that which they were struggling so hard to secure, even though I may need it badly as I always do.

Everything was moving lovely until four quartets in different localities decided it was time to sing. That event in itself could have been part of the passing show, but everybody wanted to sing tenor and well—I begin to get sleepy and without making any inquiries as to the time I started home—not being as fortunate as most of our members who had their machines to bring them to this great celebration I found my way to the green car—Home James.

Yes all in all I had a great evening. So much space being consumed with the above will not permit me to make a lengthy report on our recent election of officers.

Will state that office seekers are becoming more ambitious every election, and believe me we are beginning to have real elections our way at last. Our old officers were in most cases returned to office, some without any opposition, while opposition in other cases was very noticable indeed.

Brother Wm. Crawford was elected President. In this case the winning candidate realized some one else was winning for same office, namely Bro. J. Schwartz.

We wish you well Bill. May you have the respect of each and every member during your year or years of service.

Our former president Brother C. Voelmecke, refused to accept renomination, entering the field for Business Agent, and will state that although suffering defeat by Brother J. Cullen he surely made Cap go some which terminated in the closest neck to neck finish ever run for said office.

Yours truly was again honored by the scribes office, thinking all the time previous to election that other candidates were using underhand methods to secure this office, imagine my surprise to find all had withdrawn from ticket, leaving me clear sailing again as usual. Thanks boys for your over estimated confidence.

We'll see you again next month.

With best wishes we remain,

Fraternally yours,

E. S.

Editor:

On May 1st., 1918, the members of this local were locked out by the master builders of this city along with all of the other building crafts of the building trades council, at that time we were forced to put section 8 of article 14 into effect and the same has been in effect ever since, although we have been successfully in the mean time in closing up some of the shops, and we have given the traveling brothers work from time to time as we were in a position to let them have it, but the master builders are starting to give us another fight by advertising throughout the United States in every section for all classes of building mechanics asserting that there is no labor trouble in the cities where things are well organized and in the communities where crafts are not very well organized. They are saying that we have an open shop town. They are using these and every other means to flood the market here with labor to make it and keep it an open shop which they have not been exactly successful up to the present date and if the members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers will do their part by advising any one that they know, who have any notion of coming to Akron, to stay away until they are notified from us that it is a safe place to light in, it may serve to make things good for our mechanic who will be in a position to come here after we have lifted the bars.

Another thing that must be given serious consideration in regards to locating in the city of Akron, is the fact that you cannot find a place to lay your head after you get here. Ask any one who has been here and they will tell you that this is the truth. There has been many a man come in here with the expectation of going to work through the misleading advertisements of the big rubber corporations who are located here and master builders, that are forced to return where they come from due to the fact that there are not ample houses here to care for their needs. If you are wealthy enough to be able to buy a house you are in a position to light, and you can buy some of the shacks that are simply thrown together setting on a lot forty foot front sixty foot deep and thirty foot across the rear for the mere trifle of six thousand five hundred dollars, and they will tell you that are within five minutes walk of all of the big factories, but when you come to look over these places, which are few, you will find that it would take Barney Oldfield twenty minutes in his fastest machine to get to the nearest factory. These are facts brothers, and will stand investigation. Tell all of the unorganized people you see that are thinking of coming this way to save their money and stay where they are as there has been many stung before, and if they will take the advice that is being handed out straight they will thank the parties who are interested in their welfare the most.

Remember we have section eight of article fourteen into effect, and we do not propose to accept any more travelers or issue any further permits so long as we are in the position we are.

Just as soon as the Master Builders pull in their horns and decide to do what is right just that soon will we advertise through this journal that you are welcome and not before.

I also wish to call the Brotherhoods attention to the fact that we have one certain contractor in this city who runs a strictly scab shop (we have no others aside from the Union shops) who is manufacturing a pipe bender. You no doubt have noticed it advertised in the big electrical journals, known as the (White-Cotten Bender) stay off of it, refuse to use it and this skate will soon come to his senses and will soon employ Union men.

Fraternally yours,

Our eleven members who have been with the colors are back in the ranks and most of them are at work. These were from a membership of about thirty. So the home boys gave them a banquet. It was a grand success. The banquet was served family style and not in courses. The waiters merely passed the stuff, and everyone was entitled to all the chicken or anything else he wanted.

The National Electrical contractors have data as to wages paid and prices charged for labor all over the U. S.; also any other information necessary. I wonder why Labor Unions don't adopt some such sort of information service, such as seals and working agreements in different towns. It would be very valuable when adjusting wage agreements. Our bosses can tell us all sorts of things and we can't deny it because we don't know.

Mother Bell is now looking after interests in Kansas by forming an "employers or Rockefeller Union" among the telephone operators and general office forces. Only about 28 or 3 members of 96 remained loyal to themselves. They seemed to believe the straw bosses when he tried to convince them that loyalty to the company precluded loyalty to their fellow workers or to themselves. It rather discourages one who has worked long and hard to help better their conditions.

Following is a list of our newly elected officers: President, Geo. R. Sheldon; V. Pres., Verne Elliott; R. S., Frank Sayer; F. S., Roy Lewis; Treas., C. A. Gill; Industrial Council Delegates, P. M. Montgomery, J. R. Woodhull, G. R. Sheldon, B. and G. Council, P. M. Montgomery, G. R. Sheldon, M. G. Hathaway; Executive Board, Geo. R. Sheldon, J. R. Woodhull, M. G. Hathaway, J. Roy Lewis, C. A. Gill; Inspectors, C. J. Ellis, Erle Booker; Foreman, H. W. Orr; Trustees, M. G. Hathaway, Geo. R. Sheldon, Geo. Riddlon; Business Agent, H. F. Warren; Press Secretary, J. R. Woodhull.

We are anticipating trouble in negotiating our next agreement, but every member has made up his mind to go through with it regardless of cost.

I. U. NO. 252, ANN ARBOR, MICH.

Editor:

Some time has elapsed since Local Union No. 22 has been heard from in the Worker, so herewith a few sparks from Ann Arbor. Nearly all our soldiers and sailor boys are back with us again. Everybody is working and receiving $6 a day, and the prospects are we are going to enjoy a boom in the Building Trades. We have at the present time a 100 per cent Building Trades Council and everything is moving in a most harmonious and congenial manner between Contractors Association and the Council since our spring storms.

We are also affiliated at this time with the District Council of Electrical Workers, who have made great strides in bringing in new members and forming new locals, and we all have hopes that in the near future Michigan will be able to count herself 100 per cent organized.

Our meeting of June 11 will take up the nominations for our officers for the coming year. The prospects look as if the same men will be retained, for good work has been done in this past year and the local has been respected and received the support of all the locals in the Council in all our undertakings.

Our financial secretary has formed the habit along the lines of the capitalist and when you meet him he has such a very pleasant manner of extracting your dues, in fact all he can see or has in view is to increase our treasury, until in the near future we will have to start a depository of our own. Well here is wishing him the best of luck.

Our president also happens to be the business agent for the Building Trades Council, also secretary to the State Building Trades. A hustler from the word go. When he tells you such and such is the case and how to remedy the same, you can rest assured that he will carry out his instructions to the letter and in a manner that is most agreeable to all. He also is a delegate to the District Council of Electrical Workers, and I wish to assure the Council he will carry out any duties that are requested of him, and the bigger the job the better he likes it. It is with regret that we have to report we had some members who turned skunk when it came to a show-down. However, we all feel that the I. B. E. W. is no place for those with cold feet. Prompt action and solid front is a necessity of the I. B. E. W.

With regard to all officers and members of I. B. E. W., I wish you good day.

L. U. NO. 258, PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Editor:

Just a few words from Local 258 to let you know that we are in the first line trenches, although the treaty has been signed there is no saying when the trouble will start over again. Our trouble with the Blackstone Gas & Electric Co. of Pawtucket is pending for we had organizer McDonnell here to try and straighten out the matter so that we are looking for a quiet 4th of July in Pawtucket.

I am sorry to say that I missed the last meeting in June for I was away on a vacation trip but I am glad to say that what ever I missed at our meeting, I made it up by paying a few visits to the A. F. of L. convention in Atlantic City. It sure was some meeting and I guess that the delegates know that Atlantic City is some place. That is I mean before the first of July, for there were a lot of welcome signs on the swinging door's of the refreshment places.

I like to state and say a few words about the outing and clam bake that Local No. 516 held on June 29, 1919, at the Hummocks and an invitation was extended to Local 258 to take part in the outing. Members from Local 258 were present in all the game, sporting game as well as card games. The biggest feature of the day was the ball game between Local 258 and 516. It sure was some game. Six innings were played. Score was 516—7 runs; 258—4 runs. The lineup of the teams were as follows:

Local 516.

Catcher—McGuiness, Warwick.
Pitcher—McAdams, Providence.
First Base—Jrockett, Providence.
Second Base—Ney, Providence.
Third Base—Baldrick, Providence.
Short Stop—Eckland, Providence.
Center Field—Flanigan, Providence.
Left Field—Fisher, River Point.
Right Field—Alford, Mt. Pleasant.

Local 258.

Catcher—R. Barnes, Warn Pier.
Pitcher—W. Hart, Worcester, Mass.
First Base—Moran, Providence.
Second Base—Bayha, East Providence.
Third Base—Crowley, Edgewood.
Short Stop—Richey, Lymanville.
Center Field—Gray, Pawtucket.
Right Field—Donahue, South Providence.

I want to say that there is a little excuse for Local No. 258 for losing the game for we are all old married men with families. As for the 516 men they are all young single fellows without a care upon their shoulders. I want to say right here that we sure did give them a good fight. Due to a few errors of the first baseman and short stop, why 516 got four runs in on us but I got to give the short stop a little credit for he was holding down the coaching job, for he was so good that he would run around the base with the runner, for at one time I was running around the base and he was right in back of me and I thought that it was one of the other team players trying to catch me as a stop at the base, instead of running home. The score keeper was Rode McDonald of 258. Of course he was a good score keeper but not good enough for 258, for he was to accurate with the runs that were made. There is no doubt but that we could have won the game if the score keeper had been with us. There was one thing that happened that day, which was a mystery to all, and the mystery is this? How did the keg of beer get behind the automobiles? Nevertheless it tasted good, so what did we care.

I would like to say that we did not hold a meeting on July 4th, on account of it being a holiday, but I can tell you that our next meeting on the 11th will sure be a busy one and a long one.

Providence here has celebrated the old custom of the night before the Fourth and you can take it from me that it was some celebration for at 12 P. M. of July 3rd they had a big bonfire that could be seen for miles away and the fireworks were set off for every one stayed up until morning, as the old song goes, We won't be home until morning. They sure did live up to the song.

I suppose that the talk of everyone is the big question of the day, and that is prohibition. It may be right and it may be wrong, but organized labor of Providence say that it is not right. That the rights of the people are taken away from them, for they are going to start and fight for some rights in our civic life. If this prohibition is carried on it means that thousands of union men will be out of employment from the brewery to the bar room, and that means that other union men in other trade crafts will be short of work for this is a reconstructing year and not a destruction year, so I think that the union men should use all the power and influence to try and fight this big question.

I guess that I will bring this letter to an end hoping that I will have one for the next issue of the Worker and I hope that the other Press Secretary will do the same. Wishing good luck and success to the I. B. E. W. and all locals.

Fraternally yours,

F. Bayha, Secretary.

L. U. NO. 292, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

Editor:

I will try to get a little note in the Worker for 292 for this month and will commence by saying that 292 has been very successful in its last wage scale agreement, which we settled without any walk-out or loss of time. Our committee had a time getting it, but we got it alright. The scale is as follows: $6.50 per day of eight hours for wiremen and fixtremen. $6.00 a day of eight hours for shopmen. The apprentices have a graduated scale from one to four years at the business as follows: First year is optional with the employer; second year at 40 cents per hour; third year, 50 cents per hour and the fourth year 62½ cents per hour. Overtime at one-half rate to 10 P. M., double time after 10 P. M. to 8 A. M. following morning. Double rate for Saturday P. M., Sunday and holidays. We have another good point in our agreement. In case of any difficulty we have an arbitration board of contractors and local men who settle all difficulties without recourse to strike or pulling out of a shop. I forgot to mention that 292 and 110 of t. Paul worked jointly as one board during the wage scale settlement and 110 has the same conditions as we have.

Now I might mention that we have tried a rather new game in the way of getting more men into our local. We have found from past experience that our method of running the Business Agents office was at fault for several reasons, one of which particularly was that the man in office was too heavily loaded down with work and could not do all that was to be done. We are now doing this. We keep the Financial Secretary who is Brother G. W. Alexander in office all the time, or during the business day. He attends to all the office business takes dues, etc. He gets the usual scale of wages for that. We have a man on the outside who does all the outside work entirely. He is the real business agent. He has the whole day to do his business and gets the cooperation of the man in the office as well as the Brotherhood. We think this is going to be a mighty good thing and will show wonderful results in a short time. Our outside man is Brother Harry George who has a long past record for good organizing work both with 292 and other locals outside of the I. B. E. W. Brother Chas. A. Anderson who was our previous Business Agent, resigned at our first meeting in June. We had election of officers but at this writing, I do not know results, so cannot publish them herewith. Brother W. H. Skeldon has been elected as delegate to the International convention at New Orleans. I might add that conditions here are none too good at present. We have a few members loafing right along and just about manage to keep the majority of the brothers going. There is no new work of any size and not very much of a lookout for any in the near future, but there is some jobbing and short order stuff to just about keep moving. Our membership is growing every day and with our new Business Agent and assistant we ought to be getting some results. We are getting quite a few of the service boys in here. Our initiation being $100 and we require $20.00 down, so we give the service boys a present of the first $20.00 and start them to work for $80.00 and give them a $100.00 card. We had a Stag Party on June 28th and invited all the brothers, both paid up, provisional and pending and we gave them a Royal Good Time. We have found this to cement the brotherhood closer together and also a good opportunity for the pending and prospective members to know the brothers and see for themselves that we are human beings and not Cannibals. That we will treat them as brothers and discredit this score stuff circulator about organized labor.

I have written an awful lot for a little note, so will now close with best wishes to the Brotherhood.

Fraternally yours,

Ed. Lawrence, P. S.

L. U. NO. 296, GORHAM, N. H.

Editor:

Brothers here is just a little chatter from 296, for the first time in its history. The reason we have never before been represented in the columns of the Journal, is that our membership has been so small that it has been impossible for us to hold meetings during the war. We organized just a short time previous to the outbreak of the war and so we never really got started. We had an organizer with us when we got our Charter. He was here a week or more, "mullied practically all of the time." He was a rough, rowdy sort of a fellow, and done us more harm than he did good.

Now that the war is over and some of the boys are back we have started in to do business on our own hook, and believe me, we are doing it right. Six weeks ago we had out seven members, today our membership is over forty. (Not so worse for a beginner.) Will soon be over the top with old "296" if things progress as they have for the last two meetings.

Brothers, to give you a line on what we are getting as compensation for our labor; Journeymen receive from 52 to 67 cents per hour, first helper gets 47 cents and a second helper gets 42 cents per hour. A ten per cent bonus is also paid us at the end of each month, and I hear there's a ten per cent raise coming this week.

We have got a swell chance here for a fine Local. There are about three hundred electrical workers employed here when times are good. Believe me, it's going to be one hard job to get them all, but we're going to get them, just the same for "United we stand and Divided we Fall."

At our next meeting we shall, for the first time, go through the ceremony of installing officers. Refreshments are to be served after the meeting. That will probably draw the bunch.

We have adopted a monthly due button system, which will probably help to make us all come through with our dues when we should.

Business in this section is poor at present. Contract work is scarce and the mill work is not any to brisk. Here's hoping it picks up soon.

A visit from any of the Brothers drifting this way will be appreciated by 296.

Hoping that this has not too greatly tried your patience. I will now pull the switch.

Fraternally yours,

A. Mortenson,
Press Secy., pro tem.

L. U. NO. 329, SHREVEPORT, LA.

Editor:

Since my last letter to the Worker, we have been real busy in the city of Shreveport. Have organized every lineman working for the Bell and trying our best to get in touch with the operators, but so far we have had no success in organizing them.

Although we have a few, who wish to get more than what the company is now paying. We have had a number of open meetings, inviting the operators to the Labor Temple, but the girls all seem stubborn and only a few attended our meetings.

Every member has been working and trying to get the ladies interested but they don't seem to care whether they live or die.

We have eight applications, which includes a few from the Home Telephone Office. The Central Trades organizing committee composed of Brother "Scotty" Towers of the Painter's Local and Brother Overcash of the Street Car Local have both done all they could to get in touch with the ladies by visiting their homes. I would like to know what other locals are doing to organize the operators, or do they willingly see where the Brotherhood would help them.

Brother Towers who is an A. F. of L. organizer has been busy on different crafts and succeeded in organizing the Express Clerks and Laundry Workers. Local 329 gave an open meeting on the 11th of June inviting the operators and organized a local of C. T. U. operators from the Western Union Postal Companys.

Brothers we are not going to give up hopes, for we expect to get the phone operators, if we must give a ball or some entertainment to get them interested. Some are willing to come in, but Mr. Bell tells them if they join an organization, that they will be discharged and on the 13th of June Mother Bell gave a big blow out for her children at the Youree Hotel (the best in the city) for the purpose of getting all the employees from out of town interested on organizing a company local but without success. As the next day all the linemen came direct to the hall for nothing more, but to take out a card.

No doubt the employees of the Bell have seen Order No. 3209 which went through the paper for three days and now see what the Brotherhood has won for them. If they will only have sense enough to help keep the ball rolling.

The boys working for the Home Telephone got together and asked for more money, which has gone into effect already. The scale calls for $5.00 for linemen, $5.50 for foreman and an eight hour day, as before they were getting $4.00 for nine hours.

I understand Mother Bell gave the lineman a $20.00 raise just before the strike was to be called off and offered most any thing if they would draw up an agreement with them locally. Some talk of the home rebuilding and they sure need to do something or many more moons the construction will be down. But I don't see how they can rebuild on a coil of twisted pair the boys have in stock. If the work should ever start the writer will let the Worker know. Brother Summers has a job going with the Texas Company and keeping some of the boys busy who went off the Light job.

Most every one is working, although work isn't plentiful for the linemen, but the Narrow Backs of 194 seem to be real busy just now and their new scale goes in the first of June calling for $1.00 per hour. Secretary of both the Central Body and Building Trades. We are glad to have the Brother in this o. c. e. The convention comes off soon and no doubt it will be of success. All southern locals should be able to send a delegate this time. We expect to have a delegate and every local should try to have one in New Orleans.

At our last regular meeting the officers elected for the next term are as follows:
President and Press Secretary—Roy C. Johnson.

Vice-President—Victor Chaler.
Recording Secretary—C. A. Long.
Financial Secretary and Treasurer—Edw. A. Olwell.

First Inspector—J. B. Ensminger.
Second Inspector—H. E. Barron.
Foreman—Ed. Averitt.
Trustees—C. A. Long, three years; J. J. O'Donnell, two years; T. L. Jueliff, one year.

Executive Board—Long, O'Donnell, Jueliff, Everitt and Johnson.

Delegates to I. C.—Bros. J. J. O'Donnell.

Alternates to I. C.—Bro. Edw. A. Olwell.

There has been some few members on the sick list lately, but all back to work now. Brother Long has misfortune to lose his brother in March and Brother Olwell lost his brother in New Orleans some few weeks past.

No doubt I have taken up my space for this month, my pipe being out, so will close with best of wishes to the Brotherhood and success to our Lady Locals.

I remain,

Yours electrically,

Roy C. Johnson,

Pres. and Press Secy.

1644 Templeman Street.

Editor:

I will try and let you know how things are around here. Light Company is hiring all the light men they can get at $5.85 for nine hours. I will try and let you know how Mother Bell has been doing us to stop us from organizing the operators. We get cards out telling them about our meeting and then the Company holds a meeting and they pay them time and one-half for attending their meeting and all we get is what the Company sends up.

If I had Miss Rose Sullivan in here or some good organizer I could get by with organizing its operators. I have all of the construction bunch and five of the exchange bunch. They layed off all of the construction men until the first of August, that is what they say. Ma Bell has organized an association called Akron Bell Association. One of our members is president and the other is Secretary of it. Of course we will find out all the news. I don't think they should hold those officers, but at that if they had not taken it the city foreman and plant chief would have. I can't see where they are going with that A. B. A. That won't get them any more money. I can't see where the boys eyes are at. Oh yes, I started going down to the Exchange on Tuesday. On Thursday they got a fifteen cent raise. Seen me handing out applications and on Saturday they raised them 35 cents making $4.75 for eight hours. Ohio state raised to $5.00 for eight hours. Bell on the 4th of July told the men they did not have to work Saturday July 5th and would get paid for. Isn't that nice of Mother Bell. Then they say the organized men get nothing for them. Just as long as we fight for the men Mother will raise their wages and that is the reason we can't get through, but we are after them all of the time of course I am in here all by myself and you all know the Rubber Works will spend million of dollars to keep wages down. We have Firestone Goodyear about 90 per cent organized. There is going to be lots of work in here in the near future, so when it starts I will let the Brothers at large know it. Now Brothers attend your regular meetings and see what is going on and if there is something pulled off that you don't want say so, don't stay away and holler. Get to the meetings there is the place to talk. Well Brother Locals get busy and drop a few lines. Let us hear from Local 178, 17, 640 and also 220.

I must ring off this time,

Fraternally yours,

L. U. NO. 457, ALTOONA, PENN.

Editor:

Just a few words from Local 457 of Altoona. Altoona is coming along as far as getting organized is concerned. All the different crafts employed by the Pennsylvania railroad have strong unions. The electrical workers for the railroad are well organized.

The men who are not employed by the railroad are the men who present the problem. Many of the employees of the Light and Power company are union men. There are still too many doubting Thomases in the ranks.

The charter was open from the first of the year till June the first and in that time we got three telephone workers. They have seen what unionism did in the trouble with Postmaster Burleson. Still they hang back and when approached with a membership card give some trivial excuse and refuse to sign. They had better beware, for the men are a live bunch and these non-union workers will wake up and find the plum in the hands of the union man.

Labor conditions in Altoona are fair. Wages are not the highest, neither are they the lowest in the state. Very few of the brothers are out of work.

There have been an unfortunately large number of fatal accidents to electrical in this vicinity within the last six months. None of the men were members of 457 I am glad to say.

Whether these accidents were caused by the carelessness or ignorance of the men or whether due to lack of safety devices, I am not in a position to state. I believe that a committee should be appointed by the local union to investigate these accidents and see that the employee provided sufficient safety devices and instructed the men on a dangerous job of the dangers.

Brother Boyer has left the employ of Penn Central and gone in business for himself. We all wish him the best of success in his new venture and will turn all the business in his line that we can.

Let us see all the out of town men every first and third Monday that can possibly come.

Fraternally,
Frank S. Clark,

L. U. NO. 476, SAGINAW, MICH.

Editor:

We are having quite a campaign here in Saginaw with the contractors and have had our hat in the ring for a week or more but expect to win out in a short time. Organizers Joe Lyons and Slattery have helped us out a lot and deserve a good deal of credit. (Some birds are those boys).

We have in the neighborhood of 300 members now and take it from me Brother 476 is getting to be some local. Until further notice Article 14, Section 8 will be in effect. As we have some of our inside men still on strike, Charley Findlay (our business agent) has been pretty busy hog tying the contractors and has them up a tree and they don't seem to like Charley a bit but Charles is still able to get around without a wheel chair.

When we get through with Saginaw it will probably be a place fit to work in. With kindest regards from 476 believe me,
Fraternally yours,

H. C. Metcalf, F. S.

L. U. NO. 505, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Editor:

Well L. U. No. 505 is still on the map, and hope to stay there. The boys are all interested in the cause, and attend the regular meetings very good, but a little more enthusiasm by some of them in being present would not hurt.

I am glad to say the Telegraph and Telephone linemen are coming into the fold.

We enrolled nine new members last meeting night, and passed on the applications of about ten or twelve more. We have about 140 members at present and hope to have something doing pretty soon, in the shape of shorter hours and better pay.

We regret the loss of our late President, Brother John L. Foster, who resigned some time ago to accept a position in Akron, Ohio. He was a good member and President and a Union man from the top of his head to the bottom of his No. 12's. Here's wishing him success from all the boys of Local Union No. 505.

We had our election of officers recently. Officers elected are as follows:

President—L. I. Timmans.
Vice President—C. W. Hipp.
Financial Secretary—Geo. F. Cranenberg.
Recording Secretary—F. Gilreath.
Inspectors—Howard and Ross.
Foreman—Henderson.

Trustees—Hunter and Cox, and the writer as Press Secretary.

Trusting you will find room in the Worker for this letter and others in the future.

With best wishes from the boys of No. 505 to all the Brotherhood.

Fraternally yours,
L. O. Elliott, Press Secy.

L. U. NO. 543, CHARLESTON, S. C.

Editor:

L. U. No. 543 of Charleston, S. C., is still making headway to a better future. We have been rushed with business of all kinds for some time, but it seems to be getting back to normal now. We have discontinued meeting every Tuesday night, and have gone back to our regular meeting night, every second and fourth Tuesday night. We hope we will be able to handle our business prompt and with the best of success without any special meetings.

We have been having quite a bit of trouble with our business agent of the builders trades council. The one now in service is to be asked to resign and a new one elected. We hope we will get a better and fairer deal from our new one when he takes the job.

The Local Electrical contractors seem to be having trouble with men working at Navy yard during day for eight hours and then coming to the city and taking jobs on side. It's only a small item, we will get it settled soon. The Local work of Charleston seems to be normal. I don't know of any of our men out of employment.

The Local Union has an agreement drawn up and are now working to get the contractors to sign it, so we will have some protection in case of a dispute. We hope it will get the signature of all contractors that the agreement effects.

For fear the circuit will be overloaded I'll cut off.

L. U. No. 545, Charleston, S. C.

L. U. NO. 558, SHEPHERD, ALA.

Editor:

Just a few lines to the Worker in the absence of our Press Secretary, who had an attack of the "Willard-Dempsey fever" and left here about July first for Toledo and has not yet returned.

No doubt there is a number of the brothers, who will be interested in knowing the result of our "fishing trip" mentioned in the June letter. Our members returned to work on June 10th, at Plant No. 2, Muscle Shoals, Alabama. After making every effort to get our just and rightful demands, our committee appealed to the War Department and to Cranford, director of Nitrate Plants (the dollar a year man). All these demands were turned down, then the committee petitioned Congress, sending a copy of petition to all congressmen and senators of the United States, the President of the United States, and all Local Unions of the I. B. E. W. The Presidents petition was accompanied by a letter demanding that Mr. Cranford be removed from office as he is biased and unfair to organized labor and is president of the builders association of New York City who makes a boast of having a five million dollar boodle fund to fight organized labor. We have received acknowledgment from about two thirds of the Congressmen and senators and the majority of them are very favorable and others passing the "buck" to the representatives of Alabama. We have been informed that our petitions have been read into the Congressional record and placed in the hands of the congressional Military Affairs Committee to make an investigation and recommendation to the War Department. The following is quoted from Congressman Harry Hull's (Iowa) letter and is only one of several encouraging letters received from members of the Military Affairs Committee: "I have talked to several of the Congressmen relative to the matter to which you refer and I think that pressure is now being brought to bear to see that the matter is properly adjusted. If anything develops within the next few days I shall be glad to advise you."

Orders have been received at the Air Nitrate Corporation and the J. G. White Corporation, Plant No. 2, for the time keepers to check over their books and make an estimate of the back pay to September 21st, 1918, due the electrical Workers.

Our members returned to work under the condition that there would not be any discrimination against them, but were informed that the Plant would be shut down about the first of July whether the Plant was complete or not. On June 18th, an extension was granted the J. G. White Engineering Corporation to complete all construction work on Power House, also authorized to work ten hours per day, six days per week. Since the Armistice was signed up to this day our members were working 44 hours per week so you can plainly see that it is an attempt to camouflage our members, leading them to believe that they were getting more by working over time than if we had been granted our demands or a raise from 75c to 87½c per hour. Prior to May 16th, we had closed shop conditions at Plant No. 2, but since the over time has been added, the contractors have attempted rank discrimination against our members and have advertised "open shop job," and sent labor agents to New Orleans, St. Louis, Cleveland and Cincinnati to try and recruit electrical workers. They recruited a member of non-union would-be mechanics and at the present they have about thirty or forty men on the pay roll as electricians, who claim to be machinists, engineers, etc., this type have no credentials and show no signs of mechanical ability but are drawing the same pay as the journeyman electrical worker.

At the time our members struck at Plant No. 2, May 16th, there were 325 of our members employed and every member came off the job. About a week later one member, W. R. Bloss, Card No. 454556 broke from the ranks and went scabbing. He and one non-union man, W. Desprez, from Memphis, Tennessee were the only journeymen that scabbed. Thomas O'Mara, Superintendent of Electrical Work for J. G. White, who claimed to have a withdrawal card, but his last dues were paid in 122, Great Falls, Montana in May 1918, Langstaff, foreman for J. G. White, supposed to have a card out of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada; Bell, general foreman, supposed to be a member of 134; the last three above mentioned were not satisfied to draw their salary as officials of the company, but deliberately scabbed the job the whole time our members were out, shooting light and telephone troubles, operating sub-stations, doing as much construction work as they possibly could.

We are still on strike against the Sheffield Power and Light Company and three card men are now scabbing: Chas. W. Arno, Card No. 44162; L. P. Miller, Card No. 440161; L. T. McDonald, out of No. 27, Baltimore, Maryland. Now, brothers, be on the alert for the above mentioned men for some day they will be leaving Muscle Shoals.

When next month's Worker goes to press I hope we will have some better news in regard to our grievance at Plant No. 2.

With best wishes to all Local of the I. B. E. W., I am

Fraternally yours,

Press Secretary, Pro Tem. of L. U. No. 558.

L. U. NO. 596, CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

Editor:

As I have been appointed to keep "The Worker" informed as to the doings of 596, I may as well start now and place an at home notice in once in a while any way.

We have a membership of about thirty now and still growing. All shops have signed up, but one, that amount to anything and all Electrical Workers are on the inside except one or two who pick up a good many small jobs.

So far we have not been able to line up the shopmen in the different glass factories here. No. 596 just passed through the ordeal of election of officers. They are as follows: President, Thos. Callis; Vice President, Dan Ressler; Recording Secretary, J. A. Clalighan; Financial Secretary A. J. Ford; Treasurer, C. Walters. So far as I know all the boys are working and everything going along smoothly.

H. H., Press Secy.

L. U. NO. 658, LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

Editor:

The agreement committee of L. U. No. 658, consisting of Brothers Wright, Hoffman, Armstrong, Stoecker and Wilkins, negotiated an agreement with the Electrical Contractors Association, effective July first 1919, and continuing in effect for one year, which increases the pay of journeymen 12½c per hour, making their rate 87½c per hour, and also increasing the pay of apprentices very materially. Working condition will be better under the new agreement and prospects now are for a very prosperous year for the members of Local Union No. 658.

Work is plentiful in these diggin's just now, in fact we often have calls for wire pullers when there are non get-at-able, but judging from reports from all over the country the same conditions exist most everywhere. We have one consolation, the fewer men we have to do the work the longer the jobs will last for the "extras" that are now on the job.

Our congenial and efficient financial secretary, Roy G. Stoecker, has had a rather severe, but short attack of malarial fever, but being a good wrestler he finally got the best of it and at this writing he is on a short trip to his old home in Indiana.

I believe the full membership of Local Union No. 658 is now in good health and out of jail and we hope to continue sailing along in the same channel. We can also report that the members of L. U. 295 and L. U. 812 are behaving themselves very nicely of late.

Fraternally yours,

A. W. Wright,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 720, CAMDEN, N. J.

Editor:

It has been quite some time since you have received any correspondence from Local Union No. 720 of Camden, N. J., but as I have recently been elected Press Secretary, I will endeavor to keep the "Brothers" informed of the accomplishments of our Local through the Worker.

Local Union No. 720 is composed of inside and outside electrical workers of the Camden Terminal and West Jersey and Seashore Divisions of the Pennsylvania Railroad. We are growing rapidly for there is hardly a week passes, but what we have new initiates to put through. 100 per cent strong is our goal and we are now within 2 or 5 per cent of having reached that goal.

At the present time our Charter is opened from July 2nd to Aug. 2nd, to allow the returning soldiers, sailors, and marines, who formerly worked here, to join up at the charter fee, permission to open the charter having been obtained from the International Office.

As this local was organized after the war began, it seems no more than right that we should offer the same inducements to our returning heroes, as if they had been here to join as their brothers were.

During the past few months Local Union No. 720 has had a most unpleasant case to fight namely that of our former Brother Mr. I. Keiser, who was treasurer and financial Secretary of the Local. He was found to be short in his accounts to the amount of about $300 and receipts to totaling that amount were also found to be missing from his books, he stating that the receipts had been torn from his book and lost by one of his children. No effort was made nor has been made on Mr. Keiser's part to make good, for the local would have been quite willing to be as lenient as possible with him in allowing him time to make good. The case was referred to one Legal Advisor, Brother H. S. Jeffery who immediately took up the matter with the Bonding Company with whom Mr. Keiser was bonded. They too, have not as yet made any settlement but of course will have to pay the shortage, providing no other effort is made on our former treasurer's part.

The Bonding Company (a Baltimore firm) is being represented by Laver Carr of Camden and now Mr. Keiser has obtained the services of an attorney to fight his case. The grand jury in June found an indictment against Mr. Keiser and he is now out on $450 bail.

The Local Union and Brother Jeffery are desirous of affecting a settlement as soon and with as little trouble as possible to everybody concerned. If the case has to be fought further in the courts it will result in probable imprisonment for Mr. Keiser, and will no doubt humiliate and disgrace his family. Therefore the Local Union's legal advisor Brother Jeffery mailed to Mr. Keiser's attorney, three offers of settlement, the first two allowing Mr. Keiser to pay in cash his shortage under certain conditions; while the third statement stated the Local's position and just what stand they were prepared to take. Even the Bonding Company's Attorney and Mr. Keiser's attorney himself have advised the former treasurer to make good, but he seems to be possessed with a certain amount of obstinacy and refuses to make any effort. However we are looking forward to an early settlement with as little trouble as possible, and in my next letter I hope that I can tell you we have been successful.

Our Advisory Board is holding a benefit at the Powers Theatre, Camden, this month from July 21st to July 28th inc. The proceeds of this benefit are to help defray the expense of floats and decorations for the Labor Day parade here in September.

Most all of our Brothers are well with the exception of Brother Randall who is still on the sick list and he seems to be improving very slowly, and it will be quite some time before he is able to return to work. His many friends and brothers will be pleased to see him back on the job again and a speedy recovery is wished him by all.

A very busy year is looked for here on the railroad. Conditions are much better than they were before the war, but are far from having reached the zenith for which we are striving. Our busy season on the railroad is now on too, and with a record breaking season in view and in progress at the seashore, there is work for us all here at present. Local Union No. 720 too, is looking forward to a big and successful year, as there are many adjustments to be made in order to obtain the proper conditions for our men. The proper spirit has been imbued within all of our men to stand shoulder to shoulder to obtain their just dues and rights and to make conditions more pleasant for the working man. During the past year we have been very successful having gained most of our points, and this year intend to surpass the last.

It has been indirectly understood that the National agreement between the Railway Workers (composed of the six shop crafts) and the Railroad administration has been agreed upon. This means that organized labor has gained some more new laurels and a feather can be added to its array. For by this agreement an increase in wages, a vacation with pay, pass and transportation difficulties and other smaller points have been gained all in favor of organized labor and directly benefiting the Railroad electrical workers and mechanics. I hope to be able to tell you further about this in my next letter.

May I ask for the help and the support of the other locals within this part of the country in helping us elect our brother A. I. Hart, who is recording secretary of Local Union No. 720, to the position of district chairman and who is a candidate for said position. Mr. Hart is a very capable man for such a position, having the interest and welfare of the men at his heart, and having a thorough knowledge of the grievances and exciting conditions of the working man. Your help and loyal support will be greatly appreciated. Trusting that this reaches you in time for the July issue of the Worker and wishing you and the brother locals throughout the country the best of success the ensuing year, I beg to remain,

Fraternally yours,

L. U. NO. 733, ALTOONA, PENNA.

Editor:

Local Union No. 733 sends you and all the I. B. E. W.'s its very best wishes. Ours is a Railroad or Shop Craft Union and consists of Linemen, Wiremen, Crane-men, Sub-Station men, or in fact all who are following the trade of Electrical Workers, and believe me, we are getting stronger all along, and better yet we are also getting some working conditions here in Altoona, and everybody can thank their respective local, and especially the superior officers. At our last meeting held on June 20, we elected our officers (whom I will mention below) and also have elected Bro. Geo. W. Noomer, a fearless and tireless worker to represent our local at the National Convention to be held at New Orleans in September and we Local No. 733 wish to go on record as heartily endorsing Brother Noomer for General Chairman and hope other Locals will follow in our footsteps in supporting him. Following is the list of the officers for the coming year.

President—Chas. T. Woodburn.

Vice President—F. C. Williams.

Financial Secretary—C. W. Walker, Box 38A, R. F. D. No. 2.

Recording Secretary—L. A. Lamade, 1716 2nd Street.

Treasurer—Geo. W. Sholly.

Foreman—F. H. McQuigg.

First Inspector—Bro. Neff.

Second Inspector—C. T. Snyder.

Trustee (three years) W. W. Mallory.

Now a few words about the above mentioned officers. Brother Chas. Woodburn, our worthy President, who will be ably assisted by Brother Frank Williams, are men not to be trifled with in maintaining the dignity of the chair, and decorum of the meeting. Brother C. W. Walker, Financial Secretary is just nothing short of a wizard at receiving and counting the money, and as for our Treasurer, Brother Geo. Sholly, well he is simply in his element, and has the esteem and good will of all our members, and I don't believe any local has a better man in the office than Brother Sholly is, and one look at our Recording Secretary, Brother L. A. Lamade would assure the most doubling he is a live wire and a fighter, and has been of invaluable help, and is an indefatigable cheerful worker, there being no duty that ever appears irksome to him, and Local 733 can be thankful to have such a tireless and faithful worker in holding the office of Recording Secretary, and as for our foreman, Brother F. H. McQuigg, you can rely upon it that the door is well guarded. So will close for this time hoping that I will be able to give the Brothers some real news in my next letter and so with all the best wishes for the success of all I. B. E. W.'s locals, I am

Editor:

A year has just elapsed since Local No. 750 came into existence and it has been a very successful one. Membership from a ninety mile radius of Pittsburgh, with committeemen on the alert at all times for new members.

To commemorate the natal day of Local No. 750 a banquet was held at the "Moose Temple" Pittsburgh June 5th. The committee responsible for the great working of the celebration was appointed by our president, K. H. Brooke, and judging by the results he made a good selection. They were Brothers Sheppard, Campbell, McCrasson, Brooke, Watkins and Shannon.

The guests of honor were our lady members and International Organizer Brother Arthur Bennett.

The remainder of the entertainment was given over to Brother Roy Fink, his most talented, were Brothers, Jas. Porter, C. E. McConnell, C. T. Noll, Campbell and Saxon.

Wishing the Brotherhood success, I remain,

Fraternally yours,

Editor:

A few lines from 774 about its history since its organization one year ago July.

We were organized with the assistance of International organizer, Brother Broach and the O. & O. system federation secretary, Bro. W. J. McGee. Eighteen charter members took the obligation and chose Bro. A. R. Buckner as President to guide the new born Local in its endeavor to insure better working conditions and assist organized labor in proving that in union there is strength. What an inspiration it was and always should be to these eighteen charter members, and also to each and every one who has taken the same obligation since; that the anniversary of 774 falls in the same month as does the natal day of this great American republic, for which our forefathers gave their lives that they might suppress tyranny and autocracy. So 774 organized that they might do the same. It has stood fast and hard for organization of the electrical workers on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad system. We can proudly acclaim on our first anniversary 200 members or an increase of 100 per cent. Brother Buckner held office for a little over three months after which other duties made him vacate the chair, but we all knew that if he was not at the meetings every two weeks his heart and good wishes were with us. Upon Brother Buckners retirement the question arose upon whom should 774 confer its highest gift and who would be best adapted and qualify for the duties from among a number of capable brothers. The choice seemed most unanimously in favor of Brother V. H. Effinger who accepted the trust which the members 774 conferred upon him.

How well he has substantiated the decision of the membership, speaks for itself from results shown. He has been directly and indirectly responsible for the wonderful campaign of organization of electrical workers on the B. & O. R. R.

Our most difficult problem has been in trying to organize the signal men of whom many belong to the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen of America which does not give them the proper representation they should have. It is the earnest desires of our local to see these men 100 per cent organized and all members of the I. B. E. W. To date we have handled close on to 100 grievances and lot of which have had to be settled by the Federal manager; we have been very fortunate and have had won the decisions in our favor.

The craft can see for themselves that 774 is not a slow moving local but one with a lot of pep and action and is always ready to assist and see that justice is done for its members on this System.

The B. & O. R. R. has six locals stationed at various points and 774 is the pioneer of them all. The first convention of these six locals was held in Baltimore, Md., on June 21, 1919 and a District Council organized. Our worthy president, Bro. Effinger was elected President of the Council and we all feel assured that he will be as efficient in that capacity as he has been in serving 774. If any brothers are visiting Cincinnati you will always find the latch string out and I can assure you all that you will be a welcome visitor.

Our representatives have returned from the B. & O. R. R. System council convention at Baltimore, Md., held June 21, 22, 1919.

One of the most important moves made and which has caused a great deal of discussion on the floor of our last meeting where the entire members present voiced their disapproval, and unanimously adopted a resolution demanding that at the next meeting of the system council the per capita tax into the treasury from the locals on the B. & O. be increased from 20 cents which was passed at the convention, to 75 cents. The action of the majority in voting for so low per capita tax has irritated the staunch unionism of the members of 774 and they are on the war path trying to discover where the advantage comes in making so low a per capita tax.

After the council pays its per capita to the B. & O. System Federation and to Division No. 2 of the railway employees department of the A. F. of L., they have 8 cents to carry on their own business.

Taking the average membership of our craft on the B. & O. R. R. we have about 500 members, that will leave you $40 from five locals after your other per capita has been paid out; $10 per month the Secretary-Treasurer receives as salary and allowing $5 for postage we have left $25. Now who in the world is going to fight our grievances and see that we get a square deal from the officials for that amount. Our only chance left would be by mail and we don't want to conduct a correspondence school.

What prestige we have obtained since organizing he would imperil by such transaction of business with railroad officials.

Why should our locals on the B. & O. hoard their treasury, what are the individual members receiving in protection for the dues they pay, if you fail to support your General Chairman financially as well as morally. Your money is not going to fight for your jobs and working conditions in a bank or a safety deposit vault; neither are you going to gain any results by letting it draw compound interest.

A prosperous business man never allows his equipment to become in such a shape it can't be used, but he maintains it up to the standard, and uses his surplus profits to enlarge his field of business and keep abreast of the times and looks for more efficiency. This can't be done by leaving his earnings in a bank and his equipment run down.

The same holds good for any other organized body of men, regardless if it be fraternal, insurance business, or Union Labor.

Think of our own International office that was drawing 40 cents per capita tax from over 1000 locals. They saw the handwriting on the wall and had to get busy so they could carry on the business properly.

Now compare our small 20 cents at our membership. It only means one thing that cheap labor brings cheap results. One thing unionism has been fighting since its birth.

And we hope that the following B. & O. Locals stationed at Baltimore 865, Cumberland 870, and Wheeling 924 can see the necessity of increasing the per capita tax to the system council as Pittsburg 750 and Cincinnati 774 does.

Owing to the labor troubles and general unsettled conditions, did not get any news for the May issue. However since the smoke has cleared away a few remarks will not be out of place.

For the benefit of those not conservant with the recent labor troubles this side of the line, would like to say that the I. W. W. has received such a set back that they will never get going again. Starting the ball from Vancouver some three or four months ago in the form of one big union it was finally culminated in the recent Winnipeg trouble. Owing to the usual wobbly wobbly system employed by the I. W. W. the scheme after a few weeks fell flat, with the exception of a little trouble the leaders will answer for. I really believe though, that number of locals will appreciate the respective Internationals to a greater extent in the future, so some good points have been gained. I am glad to say that this local took a sane view of the situation right along the line, and would not be stampeded under any circumstances. Conditions here are just normal as yet.

Yours fraternally,

Editor:

In spite of the extreme warm weather the boys of L. U. 817 are still at it, and instead of the heat having a depressing effect on their spirits it has served to liven them up and has put "pep" in them, keeping the old pot a-boiling merrily. After nine months hard work and good attendance at the meetings we have decided to run a smoker and reward the boys for their good work. Appreciation should always be shown for good deeds done and I think we have the right idea as to the way of showing it. The entertainment committee is now on the job arranging things for the big night which is July 29th. We all look forward to a good time and have confidence in the ability of the Committee to put over a good show. The entertainment committee comprises Brothers Lamb, Robinson, Bolger, Shepard and Hogan. Brother Hogan has just returned from over-seas after having put in over a year in active service with the 23rd Engineers. He got a "shot" of gas and later was taken down with typhoid fever after the armistice was signed; but just as he fooled the Boche bullets, so he ducked the typhoid. And here he is with us again after a long rest in the Riviera, which is, as he says, the most beautiful part of France. He is an old-timer at entertainment work and his services will surely prove useful in that line.

At the last regular meeting, July the first, we had an election of delegates for the Electrical Convention to be held at New Orleans in September. Three delegates were elected, Brothers Thompson, Smith and Pierce. Brother Thompson is our worthy President and always has the interests of the Local at heart, and a better man could not be chosen. Brother Smith is our financial Secretary, another good man who strikes from the shoulder when he has anything to say. Brother Pierce, the third delegate, is a faithful and hard worker, working always for the interests of his fellow-men and holding the banner of Organization high in the air, away from the sullied hands of contamination so willing to drag it in the dust. Three wise men they are, they who go to represent L. U. 817, faithful to the core.

Local Union 817 is continuing its good work and expects to do so for a long time, never failing in its attempt to fight for the welfare of the men and always keep them on the top of the heap.

With best wishes and success for the Brotherhood,

Fraternally yours,

L. U. No. 817, New York City.

L. U. NO. 851, LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Prior to Dec. 5th, 1918, a Union Organization among the Electrical Workers of the Pacific Electrical Railway employees was a dream of the future that a great many had doubts would ever be a reality. But since that date, we must give a good word and the glad hand to Brother H. G. Green for hitting the high spots and placing us in a position on the map with a 95% organization and affiliating us with the system council of the Southern Pacific Railway's various crafts. We have not gone far concerning the recognition of our Union with the Pacific Railway Co., but our future is looking up to a better day and we firmly believe the time is not far away when we will be tendered a contract that will mean business and give us a working basis.

As to our workings within the Local, it is fair to say we were about the wildest, woolliest rubes along Union principles, when we first hooked our wagon on the Union Star, that, perhaps, was ever found among as large a number of men. Very few of us had ever had any previous experience with organizations and the inside details, but our organizer, Brother Green, soon drilled the elementary principles into our dry systems and headed us down the right path, in a way that meant business, and Oh, Boy!, we are crowding the path for more room.

Our meetings are being held at 7:30 p. m., on Friday of every week at Room 705, Labor Temple, and on the first and third Thursday of each month at 9:00 a. m., meetings are held for those unable to attend the evening meetings.

The Pacific Electric Road extends out over four counties in Southern California and our members are scattered along all til it had affiliated with it the whole of the well organized trades in the country totalling some 4,000,000 members.

At the present time the only real bond of union between all these four million men and women is the annual Trades Union Congress, which is kept thinly in session all the year in a way in the person of its Parliamentary committee. The functions of this Parliamentary committee in late years have largely been absorbed by the newer Labor Party, which now includes unions with over 2,000,000 members and which exists to support the labor members in the House of Commons and to press forward all the time the political aspirations of the labor movement.

The Labor Party stands for the vote as the weapon of working class emancipation; the Triple Alliance of Labor stands for the strike, or what it finds now almost usually as effective, the threat of a strike, as the weapon of working class emancipation. Most of the unions in the Triple Alliance of Labor are also of course represented each year in the annual Trades Union Congress, as also are most of the unions in the Labor Party, and vice versa. There is thus a great deal of overlapping and it begins to look as though in the end the old-established annual Trades Union Congress in this country will be captured entirely by the men who are behind the Triple Alliance of Labor and we shall have then two great parties, both representing more or less the same constituents, one (the Trades Union Congress with its new leaders from the Triple of Quadruple Alliance of Labor) standing for industrial action and the other (the Labor Party) for political action. Both will, however, probably work in harmony as the leaders of both the Triple Alliance of Labor and the Labor Party already work together.

In the meantime it is well for the reader to understand that the total number of unionized British workers is somewhat over 4,000,000 and that the annual Trades Union Congress is for the time being the representative of the larger section of these four millions.

There is a further organization in the trade union movement known as the General Federation of Trade Unions. Certain of the unions that belong to some or all of the above mentioned aggregations also belong to this General Federation, which exists principally as an insurance concern. If a strike breaks out the affiliated unions get money payments from the General Federation to help out their own strike funds, these payments being of course determined by the premiums paid per member of the affiliated unions.

The General Election last December returned to the House of Commons an increased Parliamentary labor group numbering altogether some 60 members. Most of these are endorsed by the Labor Party and most of them are also trade unionists. Some of the members on the fringe of the party are doubtful, but on the whole the party in the House of Commons preserves an attitude absolutely independent of the Government and is, in fact, the chief party as we say "in Opposition."

Its leader is John Adamson, a Scottish miner and a man who although not brilliant is able and sound. At the head of the Triple Alliance are Robert Smillie, the coal miner, Robert Williams, the transport worker and J. H. Thomas, the railwaymen's chief and now in America recuperating. The outstanding leader of the Parliamentary Committee of the Trade Unions Congress is C. W. Bowerman, one time secretary of the London printers' union. At the head of the Labor Party, of course, are the much discussed Arthur Henderson and J. Ramsay MacDonald.

The eight-hour movement which has been striving for fulfillment for the last 25 years in this country has at last secured Government endorsement and Premier Lloyd George has announced that the British Parliament will proceed as soon as possible with the enactment of an 8-hour day for all trades except, of course, apparently those that by that time have secured a still shorter working week. In its lines. It is very inconvenient for a great many of them to attend more than once a month, as they have to lose a day's work in order to do so, but we take particular notice they let the month slip away without handing their hard earned money across the counter for the monthly dues, to our Financial Secretary, Brother E. C. Lyons.

We are new at the game of telling our troubles to the public through the magazine, but we hope to do better in the future.

Fraternally,

Geo. B. Soven,
Press Secretary.

Having just closed a very successful month in regards to securing new members, Local 880 starts on the last half of the year in fine shape. Every thing going well and running smooth, excluding the Mesta Co. plant at West Homestead. We don't count this little matter a great obstacle, one who cannot be beaten. Let the boys hang together, let us all pull the one way and I am sure they will soon come to time. Here I might add, Traveler's stay away from the Mesta Co. plant, West Homestead as we have had men out from there since June 4.

Send us your support and tell everybody you see to keep away. Let's all help one another in this fight as it means a great deal.

We are looking for a boom here in the Steel Mills, and the building line.

Still quite a few of the boys not working yet, and some just working a short time. The Local was favored by a visit from Brother John E. McCadden, the other night and was sure glad to have him drop in. He is our delegate to the I. C. Bro. Arthur Wooldridge of Erie, Pa., Local 56, met with quite an accident while at work June 4. Brother Wooldridge and helper being badly burned by a gasoline explosion. Both being taken to the Hospital and just being able to get out June 25. It will be quite some time before either of them will be able to return to work. Several of the Brothers have subscribed for the Worker in April and are waiting and looking for their first copy.

Will close for this time hoping to see this in the next month's issue.

I will try and let the Brothers know how things are going in around Flint, Mich. We are the youngest Local Union in the Brotherhood, but we are sure coming right to the front. It shows what the Brothers can do when we all put our shoulder to the wheel and heave together. Every boy in this local is a boomer for L. U. in himself and are taking great interest in our meetings. The result is that we have started May 18th with nothing and today we stand with about 140 members in good standing and a signed agreement with all the contractors but one and he is tied up hard and fast with only one man in his shop, who claims he has an interest in the company, but we are hot after him, and are going to get him, too.

Now Brothers, that unfair company is called Advance Elect. Co., 118 E. First St., Flint, Mich., so don't mind any advertisements you see. When that company comes clean we will let everybody know. Am enclosing a clipping we put in the Flint Journal, which I wish you would place in the Worker. It surely is a pleasure for L. U. No. 948 to publish pieces like it.

We have had our charter open and have taken practically every electrical worker in Flint. Now we are enjoying a closed shop town with 87½¢ per hour for journeymen. Now our charter is closed with the exception of the auto shops and the linemen, which has been extended for 30 days more for organizing those shops. We also have our agreement up with the I. E. DuPont Engineering Co. We are going to take it up right away and hope to make that company come clean.

We have no sick at present and only about eight men out of work—those men who are off the Advance Elect. Co. job.

If Lee Purkee sees this please write. We will try to have something of interest for the Worker every month. I will close and remain yours fraternally,

H. A. Craig,
B. A. L. U. 948.

CITY OF FLINT.

Greetings:

We are pleased to inform the City of Flint that the following Electrical Contractors have an agreement with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Worker, Local Union 948, of Flint, Mich., to date:

Bastedo Electrical Co., 1211 N. Saginaw St.

M. & S. Electric Co., 712 S. Saginaw St.

J. E. Sills Electric Co., 421 Harrison St.

Marble Bros., 718 E. First St.

Flint Electric Co., 123 E. Kearsley St.

Genesee Electric Co., 502 N. Saginaw St.

Charles T. Hutchins, 611 S. Saginaw St.

Henderson Plumbing Co.

We ask the public to patronize the above contractors who are to make our city one of the foremost cities in this state and one that always has inducements to the laboring man and home seeker.

By patronizing the above mentioned contractors you will have the gratitude and good will of Local Union 948, L. B. of E. W. and all other labor organizations in this city.

Respectfully,

H. A. CRAIG.

BRITISH ELECTRICAL WORKERS' PROGRESS.

(From Thos. Reece, 34 Cranbourn St., London, W. C. 2, England.

London, June 6, 1919.

The Electrical Trades Union of Great Britain, although one of the newer unions in the country, having been established as recently as 1889, is also one of the most progressive. Unlike some of the older trade union organizations, it affiliates and joins up with every progressive movement on behalf of labor, and so we find it of Engineering and Shipbuilding Trades, the British Trades Union Congress, the Scottish Trades Union Congress, the Irish Trade Union Congress, the Railway Shops' Organization Committee, the National Building Trades Committee, the Allied Trades Committee, the Munitions of War Committee, the Education Committee, the Cinema Advisory Committee, and the Labor Party. In this way it has both its industrial and political needs fully expressed and catered for. Its affiliation fees to these various organizations, large and small, total nearly four thousand dollars a year.

The membership of the union is now over 25,000, which is an advance of over 13,000 members in the last two years. It is now working well on its way towards a 50,000 mark, for it is agreed that if there is one industry outside aircraft that has received a fillip through the war it is the electrical industry; its union should therefore be one of the greatest in the country. Always with this growth of membership again it is insisted that the union must work close together in the general working class movement of this country.

The total income of the union is equal to about $7.50 per year per member, while the total expenditure is about half that. The amount of the reserve fund of the union at the end of 1917—the latest year for which they have so far been published—was over a quarter of a million dollars. The union pays unemployed and traveling benefit, dispute pay, sick and accident pay, funeral benefit and also gives benevolent grants. These grants have of course been small during the last year of two of war owing to widespread employment and the generally high wages helping better conditions of life. Beginning with 1919 probably the expenses in this connection will be higher owing to the dislocation that has been brought about by the transfer of industry from war to peace conditions.

This dislocation has been pretty serious and the outward and visible sign of this is that at the present time, taking labor generally all over the country, there are over a million men and women out of work and in receipt of the Government's out-of-work weekly payments through the various Labor Exchanges or Government employment bureau scattered over the country. Probably the number of unemployed is larger than this, as every unemployed person is not in receipt of the Government donation.

These weekly out-of-work payments were started by the Government directly the war finished, with a view to preventing the pinch of want being felt suddenly in the change-over period; and doles though they are, these payments have probably had the effect of helping to preserve order. At one time the Government paid the male out of work $7.25 a week and the female $6.25, with an allowance in every case for dependent children of $1.50 per week for the first child and 84 cents per week for each other child. These weekly payments were later reduced to $6.25 and $5.00 respectively and are now being reduced to $5.00 and $3.75 respectively now that the third period of 13 weeks is in operation. The number of unemployed, however, grows gradually although it is declared that we are now upon the verge of a proper resumption of civil industry with prospects of the reabsorption of the dismissed munition workers and the discharged soldiers, sailors and airmen.

That industrial trouble has threatened very seriously since the armistice has been obvious, however, despite the doles. The big center of the labor movement operating for industrial action nowadays is found in what is called the Triple Alliance of Labor. This is an association of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain, the National Union of Railwaymen and the Transport Workers' Federation. The Triple Alliance therefore covers coal mining—the very basis of all industry here) and transport, whether by rail or by water. The number of members of the associated federations in the Triple Alliance of labor is verging upon the million and a half figure.

At the time of writing a new proposal is on foot which should bring into the Triple Alliance the whole of the cotton mill and allied workers of the country. This would make it a quadruple labor alliance and bring its membership up to close upon the two million mark. It would then become the "Big Four" of labor and would probably rapidly move on then un- fact, it may be said that in this country the legal enactment of the 8-hour day has become overdue and the political trade unions have now moved two demands which have been carried through successfully for a 47-hour week in the shipbuilding and engineering trades and a 44-hour week in other industries. From these the move- ment is going on to a demand for a 40- hour week and in some cases for a five- day week of 6 hours per day, or, in other words, a 30-hour week. That is the ex- treme demand put forward by any sec- tion of labor in this country and at the moment is not, as we say, within the reach of practical politics.

Another movement of many years stand- ing is that for a minimum wage to prevent sweating and to secure that whatever or wherever the worker is in this country he or she shall secure a minimum wage, be- low which there shall be no descending and which shall be sufficient to buy to such worker all the ordinary necessities of life. The Government is now tackling this ques- tion of a minimum wage and information is being gathered. The enactment of this minimum wage, however, is not so near at hand as that of the 48-hour week and it remains a question for the unions them- selves to settle. They are not backward in doing this. Wages of labor have prac- tically doubled in this country as compared with pre-war figures and they are not go- ing to stop there, but are moving on even higher, much to the dismay of the old- fashioned employer and the old-time poli- ticians.

TOLEDO CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

Toledo, Ohio, July 9, 1919.

To the Editors of Labor Journals and Labor Papers:

Dear Sirs and Bros.: On May 5th, 1919, the Willys-Overland Company lockout sixteen thousand workers because they de- sired to retain the eight-hour day with Saturday afternoon off, which had been in effect for over three years prior to the lockout.

This company has also established a profit-sharing plan which takes from the worker his liberty and establishes a paternalistic form of control in the plant. They now in an effort to prevent collective bargaining have elected committees under their supervision to take up all differences between their workers and the company. This of course is done to destroy any at- tempt at organization.

In over ten weeks the Overland Com- pany has been unable to get out but very few automobiles and I doubt if those that have been made will RUN. They now have about six thousand school kids and strikebreakers trying to operate the plant and up to date without very much results. The skilled mechanics are standing solid and without them school kids and strike- breakers can't make good automobiles. A Federal injunction has been granted re- stricting our right to picket, two of our people have been killed and nineteen in- jured by ex-soldiers sworn in as special police. Our Labor paper (The Toledo Union Leader) has been sued by the same interests for One Hundred Thousand Dol- lars damage libel. We would deeply ap- preciate if every Labor Editor would carry a story covering these conditions and ad- vertise the Overland Automobile Company as being unfair. The Atlantic City con- vention of the A. F. of L. appointed John A. Voll, International President of the Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, and Chas. L. Baine, International Secretary of the Boot and Shoe Workers, to come to Toledo and investigate the Overland situa- tion. This committee reported to Presi- dent Gompers that the Overland Company was absolutely unjustified in their attitude and that the conditions put into effect by the Overland Company constituted slavery and worse than the system ineffect by the Kaiser in his palmiest days. We ap- peal to you on behalf of those thousands of locked-out workers to give as much publicity as you can to this unfair con- cern. Thanking you in advance for your co-operation, I am,

Fraternally yours,

JOHN J. QUINLIVAN,

Sec. Toledo Central Labor Union.
